DR. CLARK 'KIDNAPS' SON

'DICK-DICK' LETTER IS DENIED

Richard S. Ryan Declares He Doesn't Even Know Taft and Ballinger

Clean Sweep Made of Controller Bay Charges by Railroad Promoter

NEW YORK, July 19.—Richard S. Ryan, promoter of the Controller Bay Railroad, while preparing to go to Washington today in answer to a subpoena issued by the House committee investigating the Alaskan controversy, made a flat denial that he had written the "Dick to Dick" letter. Ryan said he did not know President Taft's brother, nor did he know former Secretary Ballinger well enough to address him except by his formal title. Ryan said the firm he was identified with had no connection with the Guggenheim interests either directly or indirectly, so far as he knew.

"We wanted land in Alaska that we were willing to improve at our own expense," said Ryan, "and there was nothing to suggest a grab in our proposition."

WENT TO WILSON.

"Well, when I came down to the elimination contest in Alaska, did I go to Secretary Ballinger? No, I went to the man who could handle the matter—Secretary Wilson. Who, I ask you—who is in charge of the forestry? Mr. Ballinger is not. Mr. Wilson is at the final line-up.

"There was not a time that I tried to get one foot of ground at Controller Bay in Alaska that the request was not absolutely on the level. I never tried to use one bit of senatorial, social or any other interest in advancing my requests. Everything was based on pure justice.

"And now, one last word:

"I never wrote such a letter, such a postscript or such an address. I do not know former Secretary Ballinger well encugh to address him by any name excepting his formal title. I do not know President Taft's brother even by sight, and could not possibly refer to him. This note made public by this woman seems to me to be something crazy."

Former Chief of Police Wappenstein Sentenced

Wappenstein has 90 days in which to appeal to the supreme court.

Stokes' Assailants Plead Not Guilty

NEW YORK, July 19.—Pleas of not guilty on all three counts were entered today by Lillian H. Graham and Ethel Conrad to the charge of shooting W. E. D. Stokes. They were indicted yesterday for attempted murder and for assault in the first and third degrees. The bail bond of $5000 in each case was continued.

Body of Man Found In the Moraga Valley

HAYWARD, July 19.—The body of a man named Jensen was reported found in Moraga valley today by A. Hull, a resident of that section. It is not known how the man came to his death, nor just how long he had been dead. The county officials are investigating.

Thos. Robinson Named Horner's Chief Deputy

Shortly after 3 o'clock this afternoon County Assessor Horner appointed Thomas Robinson his chief deputy. Robinson served in like capacity under Henry P. Dalton.

SUPERVISOR J. J. MULLINS IS ELECTED CHAIRMAN

SUPERVISOR JOHN F. MULLINS, who was today elected chairman of the Board.

New Member of Board Seconds Motion to Name Successor to the Position Formerly Held by Horner

The first meeting of the Board of Supervisors with the attendance of the newly appointed member, Supervisor D. J. Murphy of Livermore, who succeeds ex-Supervisor Horner, the successor of former Assessor Henry P. Dalton, was held this afternoon.

Supervisor Murphy had filed his band in the sum of $15,000, which had been approved by the judges of the Superior Court.

On motion of Supervisor Foss, Supervisor Bridge was elected temporary chairman.

He stated that the first business was the election of a permanent chairman to succeed former Supervisor Horner.

Foss nominated John J. Mullins for the position and Murphy seconded the motion. The motion prevailed and Mullins was escorted to the chair. His appearance there was greeted with applause by other members of the board and spectators in the lobby.

He announced that he would appoint the members of the several committees later in the day. A recess was then ordered until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, and the board then reconvened as a board of equalization.

DALTON WILL NOT FIGHT SENTENCE, SAYS REPORT

Henry P. Dalton is scheduled to appear again tomorrow in the criminal department of the superior court to have the case in which he is accused of soliciting and agreeing to accept a bribe of $25,000 from the Spring Valley Water Company while he was county assessor set for trial. It is understood, however, that the district attorney's office will have this matter continued and carried along on the docket with a view to dismissing it in the event that Dalton takes his impending sentence without further opposition or bringing it to trial should the convicted man appeal from the judgment that Judge Everett J. Brown is expected to pronounce upon him next Monday morning.

There was a story current today to the effect that since a visit Dr. George C. Pardee, erstwhile political associate of the convicted assessor, paid to Dalton in the county jail yesterday afternoon, the latter has decided to taken his sentence in the event that his motion for a new trial is denied and enter the penitentiary without fighting his case any further.

When Dr. Pardee called on Dalton the prisoner's wife was with him. She retired and Dalton and Pardee were together in earnest conference for nearly half an hour.

As the former governor arose to leave he shook Dalton's hand warmly and before departing from the jail spoke a few words of comfort to Mrs. Dalton. The doctor would not say a word afterwards about his call, but those who are very close to the former county assessor said this forenoon that it is significant that the report that Dalton would not appeal his case gained currency immediately following Dr. Pardee's conference with his old friend.

Dalton passed a very uneventful morning today in his cell at the County Jail. Attorneys E. E. Gehring and Burton J. Wyman of his legal staff were his only callers and they remained with him but a short time. Neither of these would divulge the nature of their visit, nor would they affirm or deny the report that Dalton would not appeal his case in the event that he was denied a new t rial.

When not otherwise occupied Dalton puts in most of his time at the jail reading and writing and taking exercise. He continues to eat heartily and sleep well and aside from intermittent fits of nervousness, which the prisoner attributes to his confinement, the former County Assessor is reported to be maintaining his normal mental status.

About two months ago the Grand Jury appointed a San Francisco firm of accountants to expert the books and accounts of all the county officials under the supervision of the District Attorney, as provided for by law enacted by the last Legislature. The experts got around to the County Assessor's office a day or two before Dalton was convicted and when the office was closed pending the appointment of the convicted official's successor the experts were compelled to suspend work.

As soon as County Assessor-Elect Horner qualifies, however, the accountants will continue their investigation. It is understood that thus far the experts have found the books in the assessor's office regular and correct, but as the audit is still young there is nothing definite as to the final result of the work. When asked about the audit District Attorney Donahue simply said that there was nothing at all unusual about it, because the new law provided for a yearly audit of all county offices and this would be part of the regular program of government in the future.

WILLIAMS IS UNDER ARREST

150 Persons Said to Have Been Defrauded by Alleged Bad Mining Stock

Accused Oakland Man Denies the Serious Charges Placed Against Him Here

A. E. Williams, for the past ten years a well known realty dealer of Oakland, was arraigned on a felony charge before Judge George Samuels this morning, the complaint being sworn to by H. W. Gray of the State Mining Bureau and alleging that Williams, as the secretary of the Calaveras Consolidated Mining Company, has been issuing fake and fraudulent prospectuses and has swindled a large number of persons.

The operations of the company were brought to the attention of Prosecuting Attorney W. J. Hennessey and Captain of Inspectors W. J. Petersen some weeks ago by Mrs. Anna Glud of 1062½ Oak street, who claimed that she had been defrauded by Williams. Investigation indicated that a number of school teachers and property owners in Oakland and San Francisco, had also been drawn into the company, and that Williams had realized more than $15,000 from his operations without actually owning any land in Calaveras county.

BOND FIXED AT $5000.

Williams was arrested at his office at 1068 Broadway last night by Inspectors Thomas Gallagher and Fenton Thompson. In court this morning Williams was arraigned and his bond fixed at $5000. He is still in custody.

Attorney Fred W. Fry appeared for Williams this morning and asked that the case be put over, as he desired to file a demurrer to the complaint. The case was set for preliminary examination before Judge Samuels for August 3.

Williams, who resides at 3725 Lincoln avenue, in the annexed district, organized the Calaveras Consolidated Mining Company some time in 1909. The offense alleged in the complaint is declared to have been committed in that year. At that time the company, with Williams at its head, had offices on the second floor of the First National Bank building in this city, but these offices were given up over a year ago.

The crime alleged in the complaint is violation of the act of the legislature passed for the protection of stockholders in corporations, and the allegation declares that he issued fake prospectuses containing claims which he knew were false. The complaint was drawn up by H. W. Gray of the State Mining Bureau after a thorough investigation by the mining bureau of the claims set forth in the prospectuses. The lands claimed to be owned by the company were surveyed and found not to be of the character set forth, and the title to these lands rested in other hands.

Mrs. Anna Glud alleges that she was

AMERICANS FEAR FOR LIVES

Ranchers in Lower California in Danger of Attack From Mexican Liberals

United States Demands Protection From Republic for Citizens in South

WASHINGTON, July 19.—American ranchers in Lower California are being threatened by the so-called Mexican liberals there. The United States today requested the government of Mexico to afford them adequate protection.

The state department's attention was drawn to the situation in a telegram from the American consul at Ensenada, who reported that Americans have been molested and had appealed to him for assistance.

Ambassador Wilson at Mexico City immediately was instructed to take up the matter with President de la Barra.

The report of a delicate situation in Lower California has increased the anxiety of the administration over recent developments in Mexico. Since the termination of the revolt it had been suposed that peace had settled on Lower California and that the lives and property of American citizens were secure.

TROOPS TO SCENE.

SAN DIEGO, July 19.—One hundred Mexican troops have been ordered from Ensenada to the district around Alamo, where a small band of rebels or bandits are said to be operating. This information was received in San Diego today from Ensenada.

Mexican troops in scouting parties are said to be scattered up and down the peninsula for the purpose of suppressing outlaw bands and restoring law and order.

Most of the ranches owned by Americans and foreigners are in the northern part of Lower California and during the recent revolt suffered considerably from raiding parties of

Ed Wythe Appointed State Parole Officer

SACRAMENTO, July 19. — Ed Wythe, sergeant-of-arms of the assembly during the last session of the legislature, and formerly deputy sheriff of Sacramento county, has been appointed State parole officer to succeed Frank Mulford. This is the first change made by the prison board following the resignation of Director Clinch of Grass Valley. The position carries a salary of $1800 a year.

BRANDS BANK OF IRELAND AS PROMOTION SCHEME

At a meeting held here last night steps were taken by the stockholders of the Bank of Ireland, promoted by Naph D. Greensfelder, to begin an investigation into the affairs of the concern and to protest on behalf of certain stockholders regarding the conduct of the affairs of the institution.

George Yeager was elected chairman and William H. O'Brien, assistant city attorney of Oakland, will act as attorney. It was intimated that things were not going along very smoothly in the bank's affairs.

Superintendent of Banks Williams, in speaking of the proposed Bank of Ireland in his offices in San Francisco this morning, declared that he had not heard of the latest move of the subscribers.

MISSTATEMENTS MADE.

"Many misleading statements have been made," he declared, "of the real status of the Bank of Ireland. I have been informed about the original facts concerned in the establishing of the institution, and it was stated to the stockholders that a license would be secured. My attention has been called to the activity of the promoters a nd it is certainly a promotion scheme.

"I will say that they have no right to use the name 'Bank of Ireland.' They have never received a charter as a bank, and have had no recognition from any authority. It is expressly forbidden to use the term 'bank' without a charter, and this they could not receive under the old law without the payment of $25,000.

"Now, it requires, under the new law, a paid in sum of $200,000 before a bank can be launched in Oakland. If the promoters claim that they can go ahead on the payment of $25,000, I take issue with them, and if they were to come to me and show that the $25,000 had been paid, I would refuse them a license.

"They went through the form of incorporating, but they never received even as much capital as $25,000 and the spectacle of promoters trying to sue subscribers to get them to pay up does not look well on its face."

"The directors who are now responsible for the affairs of the bank are James Cahill, president; Daniel Crowley, Robert Robertson, A. F. Hallebaugh, A. H. Steves, Dr. A. A. Stafford, C. B. Mercerau, F. J. Cunha and Martin Ryan."

AVERTS TROUBLE.

Greensfelder, operating under the name of the Financial Underwriters of Oakland, began the promotion of the bank three years ago. A year ago he was forced to turn his books and moneys over to the District Attorney's office and narrowly averted serious trouble with a coterie of the disgruntled stockholders. Recently some 300 stockholders were served with summons to appear in San Francisco to answer a suit brought for collections on as many promissory notes. Each of the defendants is asked to pay Greensfelder $300 for "services rendered" in the promotion of the bank and to pay whatever is yet unpaid on his subscriptions to the stock.

An adjourned meeting of the stockholders will be held in Department One of the Police Court, in the old City Hall, Friday evening at 8 o'clock. All subscribers have been asked to attend.

THROWS CHILD INTO TAXI AND WHIRLS HIM AWAY

DR. J. EMMET CLARK, who "kidnaped" his own son today and escaped with him.

WIFE SEES DARING ACT

Disguised in Coat and Goggles Alameda Physician Outwits Watchful Spouse

Woman Declares That She Will Swear Out Warrant for His Arrest

ALAMEDA, July 19.—Seized by his father as he was playing in a neighbor's yard, thrown into a taxicab and whirled away before witnesses realized what was happening, 5-year-old Franklin Clark, son of Dr. J. Emmet Clark of this city, was taken from his mother today.

From the second story of her mother's home, 250 San Antonio avenue, Mrs. Clark saw the boy borne off. Crying out to her mother, Mrs. L. W. McLaughlin, she threw up a window and called for help, but the taxicab had disappeared before the paralyzed spectators could act.

Five-year-old Franklin, with his 9-nine-year-old brother, Leslie, were playing in an adjoining neighbor's yard. Bareheaded and barefooted, Franklin ran out into the street. At the same moment a taxicab drew up to the curbing and a man in black goggles with a handkerchief tied over his face, emerged, caught up the child and ran away with him.

Mrs. Clark saw it all from the window above and ran downstairs frantically calling for help. The screams of the child, who kicked and struggled, were heard by neighbors, who rushed to his rescue.

"HE IS BAD MAN!"

"Don't let papa get me," cried the child. "I won't go with him. He is a bad man. I want my brother."

Nine-year-old Leslie, as soon as he saw and recognized his father, climbed over a fence and into his grandmother's yard, screaming for his mother.

On June 26 a rumor that had been rife in this city, crediting Dr. Clark with having eloped with an alleged affinity, Mrs. Florence Robinson, who was a nurse in the White Gross sanitarium, owned by Dr. Clark, was verified by his wife, Mrs. Ivy Clark.

Dr. Clark had gone to Sacramento and located at 2224 J street, having his home and office in the same house. His mother, Mrs. L. Clark, was with him, and his wife says that Mrs. Robinson also occupied the same apartments and rooms with her husband.

CALLS IN POLICE.

Mrs. Clark consulted her attorney, E. K. Taylor, as soon as her son had been kidnaped. Sobbing hysterically, she also went into the police station and begged that all outgoing trains to Sacramento be watched so that her son could be returned to her.

There are three children in the Recognition Demanded by Union From Owners and Business of Harbor Is Paralyzed.

CARDIFF, Wales, July 19.—At a mass meeting of all classes of workers today it was resolved to seal up this port until the shipowners recognize the seamen's union. In pursuance of this decision the coaltrimmers and other workmen quit, and the seamen are refusing to sign on even at an advanced rate. The business of the port is paralyzed.

Thirty-Seven Slain By African Natives

German Commissioner Among Those Massacred by Okarango Tribe.

LIVINGSTON, Rhodesia, July 19.—German District Commissioner von Frankenberg, two white sergeants, fourteen black police and 20 carriers have been massacred by the Okarango tribe of Buchuanaland. According to native reports the scene of the massacre was on British territory, the presence of the Germans being explained by the fact that the frontier is not clearly defined.

Revolutionists Score One in Haytian Trouble

Large Force Invests St. Marc in Vicinity of Port Au Prince.

PORT AU PRINCE, Hayti, July 19.—The revolutionists have occupied St. Marc and are marching on Archahaie, a port eighteen miles northwest of this city. The government has assembled two divisions of troops at Archahaie to oppose the enemy. The cruiser Antoine Simon has been repaired and is proceeding to the threatened port.

Auto Overturns on Level Road, Killing Two People

LOS ANGELES, July 19.—Alexander Aikman, a liquor dealer, and John Summers, were killed at Puente, about twenty miles from here today, when the automobile in which they were making a pleasure trip to Redlands suddenly turned turtle. Two small children of Aikman were seriously injured. With Mrs. Aikman and the two children and another woman, Aikman and Summers were riding placidly along when, without warning of any kind, the machine turned over and the two men were pinned beneath the tonneau. The two women were thrown clear of the machine. Mrs. Aikman, though painfully bruised, made her way to the home of a rancher and telephoned for aid. Aikman and Summers died in a few minutes.

Cholera Scourge in India Claims 650,690 Lives

LONDON, July 19.—According to advices received in this city the deaths from the plague in India have reached the enormous total of 650,690 for the half year ended June 30. The disease has taken such a hold on that country that its ravages are little heard of except through the occasional official statistics. The British India office in recent reports stated that the epidemic was particularly virulent this year and that the most persistent efforts to stamp it out failed to effect a permanent improvement in the situation.

GLUED TO GROUND BY OIL

BERKELEY, July 19.—Lured to their death by sticky oil which bound them to the earth, scores of birds, field mice, squirrels, rabbits and other animals have been caught within the last few days by petroleum sprinkled on the streets in the Cragmont district, affording the most remarkable sight ever witnessed by North Berkeleyans. On Marin avenue, where the oil flowed into the gutters to the greatest depth, is the largest number of dead four-footed and winged denizens of the woods. Among the victims are a half dozen field mice with their mother firmly held by the oil. Numerous other dead animals are on the same street. They were attracted by the smell of the oil and after it had adhered to their feet they were unable to escape.

LAWYERS FOR DEFENSE GIVE OUT M'MANIGAL'S EVIDENCE

Testimony Given Before Grand Jury Against Alleged Times Dynamiters Offered in Contempt of Court Proceedings

LOS ANGELES, July 19.—Judge Walter Bordwell dismissed the contempt proceedings against Mrs. Ortie E. McManigal yesterday and the defense at the same time made public a certified copy of the evidence given by her husband, the alleged confessed plotter, to the Grand Jury on May 4.

The woman was summoned for having refused to testify before the inquisitors against the McNamara brothers, and the contempt proceedings were dismissed without a word being spoken by the attorneys for the defense. Mrs. McManigal, however, was not in court, having been stricken ill while attending the proceedings yesterday.

Judge Bordwell ruled that the affidavit of the prosecution combating Mrs. McManigal's asserted right, as the wife of an accused man, not to testify, was insufficient, and the defense hailed the decision as a signal victory.

VIEWED AS PRECEDENT.

Clarence Darrow and his associate attorneys declared that the ruling established a precedent which would guard all of the numerous witnesses for the McNamaras from the danger of being summoned before the Grand Jury prior to the trial on October 11.

The judge held that the indictments already filed against John J. McNamara, the accused labor leader, and his brother James were sufficient to hold them for trial, and that therefore there was no necessity for forcing Mrs. Manigal to answer the questions propounded to her in the Grand Jury room.

W. Joseph Ford, assistant district attorney, entered a protest to the ruling of the court, and announced that the prosecution would appeal, or at least file a new affidavit, charging Mrs. McManigal with contempt.

McManigal's testimony before the Grand Jury was incorporated by the defense in its answer to support the allegations of Mrs. McManigal that replies to the questions propounded to her in the Grand Jury room in connection with the alleged McNamara dynamite plot, would tend to incriminate both her husband and herself. Judge Bordwell, however, decided in favor of the woman without considering the answer.

McMANIGAL'S TESTIMONY.

Following is the transcript of testimony given by McManigal before the grand jury May 4. It is the first authentic report yet published of the grand jury proceedings:

Q. State your name, please? A. Ortie McManigal.

Q. Where do you live? A. In Chicago.

Q. What is your residence there? A. 114 South Sansome street, flat C 14.

Q. Do you know J. B. McNamara, who is now in the county jail? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you have a conversation with him along in October or November of last year in regard to the blowing up of the Times building in this city? A. In November I did.

Q. Where was that conversation? A. Out in the woods in Wisconsin, at Conover.

Q. Did he state to you at that time whether or not he had anything to do with the blowing up of the Times? A. He did.

NAME OF BRICE FIGURES.

Q. Did he say who blew up the Times? A. He himself.

Q. How long have you known J. B. McNamara? A. About a year ago last December.

Q. Did you ever know him to go by the name of Brice? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where and when? A. Well, before the time he came to the coast he was known to me as J. B. Brice. He was first introduced to me as J. B. McNamara, and later told me that his name was J. B. Brice.

Q. Told you to call him that? A. Yes, sir; I would have to get in the habit of calling him Sully or Frank.

Q. By his brother you mean J. J. McNamara? A. J. J. McNamara, yes, sir.

Q. Do you know J. J. McNamara? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long have you known him? A. About five years.

Q. Did you see J. B. McNamara, sometimes known as Brice, before he left the East to come to the coast, along in the fore part of the summer of 1910? A. I accompanied him from Indianapolis to Chicago on his trip.

CONFERENCE IN INDIANAPOLIS.

Q. On what trip? A. On his trip west to the coast.

Q. Now, where did you meet him that time; where did you join him? A. Indianapolis, at his brother's office in the American Central Life building.

Q. Were you present with J. B. McNamara and J. J. McNamara in the office of J. J. McNamara before J. B. McNamara left for the coast, when the question as to what J. B. McNamara was coming to the coast for came up? A. I didn't get much of that instruction that he had there. It was partly—it was almost—all settled before I got there. We left on Saturday afternoon on the Monon train leaving there at 5:05, should have got into Chicago at 7:40. We were in the office there right after lunch at noontime, and he had everything packed and arranged for his trip West—two suitcases; he told me he had a dozen clocks. He called them infernal machines.

Q. Who told you? A. J. B.

Q. Where was this conversation? A. In the office of his brother, J. J.

CLOCKS IN SUITCASES.

Q. Was J. J. present? A. Yes; he had a dozen clocks in there—he didn't mention having any dynamite or nitroglycerine, but as we were getting ready they also had a suitcase prepared for me to take up. Part of it was to be left in Milwaukee, part of it was to be taken to Duluth. And he told him.

Q. Who told him? A. J. J. told J. B. as we were getting ready to leave and he says, "You get out there and get in touch with Clancey and Clancey will make you acquainted with the bunch around there." He says, "You meet the old man out there, and he will tell you what is to be done." By mentioning the old man I learned his name was Tveitmoe and did not discuss the matter very much, going from the office there, but discussed it more on the train. He was very careful there—he didn't want to let things out, it seemed like, and I had to feel him out a good deal.

Q. Well, now, anything else that J. J. said at that time? Did he say at that time while you three were present what would be doing?

A. I was to remain around to be under his instructions to go to Milwaukee, where I was to go first.

Q. For what? A. To look after that job of the fuel company there, that was to be put up by the Hyle & Patterson company.

EXPLAINS MEANING.

Q. What do you mean by looking after the job?

A. To see what condition it was in, if there was anything to be destroyed there by an explosion.

Q. Was that talked over when the three of you were there?

A. Yes, sir. Then I was to go to Duluth where they had a Hyle and Patterson job at Superior, right across the bay from Duluth, a coal tippel partly done and another one under construction, and if we could do anything on the Milwaukee job I should go on to Duluth and see what could be done there.

Q. What do you mean by doing anything? A. Put a charge under it.

Q. Charge of dynamite?. A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you afterwards pull those jobs off? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What was in your suitcase that was prepared for you there? A. Nitroglycerine.

Q. How much?. A. Twelve quarts—three four-quart tins.

Q. Now, after J. B. McNamara had been gone for some time did you hear or read anything about the explosion of the Times here? A. After he had gone a short time, it was a couple of weeks, I believe, I seen an account of the explosion at ——

Q. That is Seattle; that is another matter. A. Drop it?

Q. Yes, sir; I don't want to go into your whole testimony at this time.

READS ABOUT EXPLOSION.

A. Later I seen the account of the explosion of the Los Angeles Times building here. I seen it in a Chicago paper. I went to Indianapolis that day, and the out in the window, and I read that on Bulletin or the Star had a big bulletin my way over to the office—J. J. McNamara's office. I got an Indianapolis paper, and there was quite a lot of details in it. I went up to his office and I went in to see him into his private room. I pulled this paper out and I said: "What the hell is going on here?" He says, "By ——, them fellows are raising —— out there, by ——; and they killed a lot of people, too."

"Yes, by ——," he says, "that ought to make them come across, the —— —— scabs," so we discussed it there for a while, just the condition things was in out here. He says, "They wanted to give them a —— —— good cleanup, and I guess they got it now." I said, "I wonder what the —— has become of that fellow?" "Oh, never mind that fellow," he says, "he is away from there good and strong; he is 200 miles from there."

Q. That is what J. J. said? A. Yes.

Q. All right. A. I asked him whether he had any word from him; he said not definite, he thought, but by the way the things read he was all right.

HUNTING TRIP ARRANGED.

Q. We will not go into that any more fully; this is only a preliminary matter and you can go into it more fully in your testimony on the trial. Did you go hunting with J. B. McNamara after the explosion of the Times, back in Wisconsin? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who made the arrangements? A. J. J. McNamara.

Q. Made the arrangements for you to take J. B. hunting? A. Yes, sir; he met me in Chicago on or about November 2 or 3.

Q. Now, then, let's come down to the Llewellyn matter. Do you know where the Llewellyn Iron Works are here in the city? A. Yes.

Q. Do you know anything about who blew the Llewellyn Iron Works up last December? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who did? A. I did, myself.

Q. How many times have you been in Los Angeles before that time? A. That was the first time.

Q. Have you ever been here since, excepting this time? A. No, sir.

ARRESTED IN DETROIT.

Q. How did you come to come to Los Angeles at that time? A. I was sent here by J. J. McNamara.

Q. Who gave you the money to come on? A. J. J. McNamara.

Q. And when you went back whom did you report to? A. J. J. McNamara, at Indianapolis.

Q. Who paid your expenses? A. J. J. McNamara.

Q. How much did he give you altogether? A. Five hundred and thirty-five dollars; he advanced me $200 on leaving there.

Q. Do you remember where you were arrested this time? A. Yes, sir, in Detroit, Mich.

Q. Who was with you? A. J. B. McNamara.

Q. Did you have any explosives with you at that time? A. I did not. I did not know what he had. I had never seen his suitcase.

Q. Did you ever see anything like that? (indicating exhibit of a clock infernal machine). A. Yes, sir. J. B. McNamara made pretty near all of these; he had a special place to buy that size battery, No. 6 Columbia. That is an infernal machine he said he invented. It isn't complete though.

Q. That is the battery and the clock, at any rate? A. Yes, sir; there should be a strip of brass up there that connects with this thing when it goes down.

Q. And that arm comes down and hits the brass? A. Comes in contact and forms a circuit.

Q. And causes the explosion? A. Yes, sir; there is a wire that connects to this piece here.

At Own Request, However, Is Ordered by Court to Pay Alimony.

Dr. James K. Warner of Livermore was granted a final decree of divorce from Eva M. Warner today in the Superior Court by Judge Fred V. Wood of Amador county, on the ground of habitual intemperance and extreme cruelty. At his own request the decree included an allowance of $50 a month that Mrs. Warner is to receive from her husband so long as she remains single. Warner explained to the court that he did not wish to see Mrs. Warner go destitute.

"During the last year that the couple lived together, according to the testimony, Mrs. Warner got drunk every day.

Dr. Warner said that he never gave his wife a drop of liquor all the time they were married. He tried in every way to prevent her from getting it, even going to the people in Livermore who he thought were selling it to her and begging them not to supply her.

"I told these people that I would pay them double the amount my wife spent with them for liquor if they would keep track of the times she applied to them for the stuff and refuse to let her have it. But in spite of everything I could do in this way and the many times I tried to cure her of the habit she would get all the liquor she wanted."

PIONEER CONTRA COSTAN IS DEAD

Joseph Gleadall Fares Forth on the Trail That Has No Turning.

Joseph Gleasdall, one of the oldest and Joseph Gleadall, one of the oldest and county, passed away after a brief illness Monday night at 10 o'clock at Providence hospital in Oakland. Gleadall had been ill for the past week or so, but seemed to be on the way to recovery and was up and around on Sunday.

Monday the day of the funeral of Mrs. Carrie Cora Davis, the wife of H. F. Davis, constable of Stege, and a niece of the deceased, he had a relapse and was taken to his bed, preventing his attendance at the funeral. Upon the return of his relatives and friends he began to sink rapidly and was taken to Providence hospital in Oakland accompanied by his wife and Mrs. Ed Davis, a relative of the family, where everything possible was done for him.

Less than two hours from the time of his arrival he passed away. He leaves a wife and one son. Mr. Gleadall had a host of friends all over the county.

The funeral will be held at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning from his late home at Fink avenue near Thornton station. Interment will be in Mountain View cemetery.

Former Dynamite Suspect Said to Be Seattle Club Manager

CORTE MADERA, July 19.—That Charles A. Pesenti, formerly proprietor of the Corte Madera Tavern, who mysteriously disappeared last year shortly after the dynamting of the Times building in Los Angeles and who at that time was featured by the newspapers as having been suspected of being in some way implicated in the tragedy, is holding a position as manager of one of Seattle's most exclusive clubs, is the information received today by a resident of Corte Madera from Mary E. Hart, who was one of three women to do heroic rescue work in the steamer Spokane's recent disaster and who is now recuperating in Seattle after her tempestuous voyage.

In her letter Mrs. Hart tells of having met Pesenti on the streets of Seattle and of having recognized him instantly as the former innkeeper of Corte Madera, where she makes her home when she is not engaged in her work as official lecturer for the Pacific Coast Steamship Company.

WOMAN LECTURER INDORSES MUNYON

Mrs. H. E. Sparks, widely known in San Francisco as a scholar and lecturer on medical subjects, yesterday announced her allegiance to the new health cult which is being organized here with great success by Prof. James M. Munyon. Mrs. Sparks, who lives at 575 Fortieth avenue, declares that she was won over to Munyon's theories saveral years ago. She has publicly talked along similar lines of common sense treatment of disease for several years.

In an interview she said:

"I can personally vouch for the soundness of Professor Munyon's new methods of treating the sick, for I was converted to his system through the use of his remedies. I consider them without doubt the finest medicines for children, for I have raised all of my children on them, and they are the best for grown people I know because I have known hundreds of remarkable cures accomplished with Munyon's treatment. I have used his treatment for rheumatism and liver trouble myself and I have had most excellent results. I am certainly glad to add my indorsement to the hundreds of others that I hear for Professor Munyon every day."

Tremendous crowds kept calling on Munyon at the main store of the Owl Drug Company in the Phelan building all day yesterday. Hardly half an hour can be passed in the store without some one coming in to report fine results from Munyon's various forms of treatment. Hours the physicians are in attendance are from 10 in the morning to 6 at night. —Adv.

'RIDE TO BAY AND JUMP IN'

Nellie L. Campbell of 120 Chase street, left her husband, Charles G. Campbell, in January, 1910, because he threatened to break her neck if she went away from the house on a certain evening, according to the testimony upon which she was granted a final decree of divorce today by Judge Fred V. Wood of Amador county.

Extreme cruelty was the ground that Mrs. Campbell set up for a divorce. She said that only two days before Christmas of 1909 her husband asked her to get a present for him. She asked him what he would like to have.

"Will you give me what I want?" Campbell inquired.

"If I have the money I will," replied Mrs. Campbell.

"You'll have the money, all right," retorted Campbell, according to the testimony. "It will only cost you a nickel to take a car to the bay and jump overboard. If you'll do that it will be the happiest Christmas of my life.

BUTLER STREET IS PROPERTY OF CITY

Clear title to Butler street is claimed to be vested in the city by deeds and maps filed in 1870, according to an opinion given by City Attorney Ben F. Woolner to the city council this morning, and as a result the city will enter upon possession of the street by force, if necessary. One-half the street was claimed by H. E. Moody and for years Moody has had the street fenced to the center line.

At a recent meeting of the city council the city attorney was authorized by resolution to investigate the claim made by Moody to one-half the street, and City Attorney Woolner made his report this morning, accompanying it with a certificate of title.

The opinion recites that the street is dedicated 60 feet wide. This will necessitate the placing of Moody's fence 60 feet back. It is probable that proceedings will be initiated in the near future to improve Butler street.

UNITED STATES TO FIGHT CHOLERA

Health Officers of Entire Country Will Watch Disease "Carriers."

NEW YORK, July 19.—The health officers, not only of New York but of the whole country, may be asked to help repel the threatened invasion of Asiatic cholera. The discovery of five "cholera carriers" among the 600 immigrants undergoing bacteriological examination at quarantine emphasized what Health Officer Doty has said about the difficulty of confining the disease to the quarantine hospitals of ports of entry.

Dr. Doty is conferring with Surgeon-General Wyman, head of the United States marine hospital service, to plan how the country may be protected against "carriers" who harbor the germs while themselves free from their ill effects. A system of general observation is contemplated, so that even after the "carrier" is released from quarantine the health authorities of the place where he settles will watch for possible transmission of the disease.

The case of these cholera "carriers" presents a puzzle. As yet the health authorities have not decided how soon it will be safe to permit them to be at large. Only the careful system of bacteriological examination put into effect here when cholera appeared could, it is said, have detected the presence of cholera germs in these apparently healthy persons.

The following bulletin relating to the cholera situation was given out at quarantine at 9 a. m.

"At Hoffman Island early this morning Domencio Rancitelli, aged 68 years, one of the steerage passengers of the steamer Moltke, was taken sick with symptoms suspicious of cholera. At the Swinburne Island hospital no further deaths have occured. On board the Anchor line steamer Perugia conditions are satisfactory."

U. S. RANCHERS ARE IN DANGER

rebels and bandits. Passengers arriving last night on the boats from Ensenada say that the Lower California government is doing everything possible to protect all foreigners and natives.

DOUGLAS, Ariz., July 19.—Agua Prieta, Mexico, is under martial law and no one has been allowed either to enter or leave the town since 9 o'clock this morning.

Captain Romero, the paymaster, was arrested when, after paying off soldiers who were to be discharged, he insisted on taking their guns. Captain Herrera, commander of the garrison, ordered his arrest. J. L. Lubbert, customs collector, also was placed under arrest.

The town was placed under martial law. No one in Douglas is allowed to cross the line. Several Douglas people who were in Agua Prieta are unable to get back to this side. Cannon have been placed in the streets and guards patrol the border, permitting no one to pass.

All customs officers at Agua Prieta have been put under arrest. Americans who were in the town when the trouble started have been permitted to return to the American side, but no others are allowed to enter. The Maderistas were offered $40 for their guns, but refused it.

CALEXICO, Cal., July 19.—Senor Gallegois, commander of the Maderist forces which procured the evacuation of Mexicali, Lower California, by the Magonistas for a cash payment of $600, is in almost hourly fear of further trouble from the so-called socialist rebels. Under a brother of Francisco, Quijada, former commander of the Mexicali Magonistas, a force of bandits is said to be raiding the ranches of Americans in the country about Mexicali, just across the line.

John McDonald, an American, who was wounded by a comrade a few weeks prior to the advent of Gallegos' force, is said to be operating in conjunction with Quijada in the vicinity of Algesons, forty miles east of Mexicali.

FATHER SPIRITS AWAY CHILD

Clark family. The youngest is a boy, Eugene, 7 months old.

Mrs. Clark's mother, Mrs. I. W. McGlaughlin, with whom she is now making her home, said today:

"I did not see Dr. Clark get the boy, but my daughter saw him thrown into the taxicab and ran from the house screaming. She recognized her husband. The kidnaping was accomplished in the twinkling of an eye, and we could do nothing. Both my daughter and I have watched the children carefully, fearing that they would be kidnaped by their father. And this is the very first time they have been allowed to play on the outside.

"My daughter intended to sue for a divorce in order to protect her children, although she is not anxious to free Dr. Clark. He has always been devoted to his children and wanted to get the two eldest boys."

Mrs. Clark stated today that a warrant would be issued for Dr. Clark on the charge of kidnaping. The physician was one of the pillars of the First Methodist church.

He is a prominent lodge man.

Mrs. Clark feels assured that he intends to remove from Sacramento and take the child out of the state with him.

As usually treated, a sprained ankle will disable a man for three or four weeks, but by applying Chamberlain's Liniment freely as soon as the injury is received, and observing the directions with each bottle, a cure can be effected in from two to four days. For sale by Osgood Bros.' Drug Stores.

A. E. WILLIAMS JAILED ON CHARGE OF FELONY

Oakland Real Estate Dealer Accused by State Official of Selling Worthless Mining Stock

induced to sign an instrument which she afterward discovered was a deed by which she had conveyed 160 acres of land belonging to her to Mrs. Lillie Bailey, who afterwards disposed of the property for $7000.

In return for this land and for money she received 30,000 shares in the Calaveras Consolidated Mining Company, and this has proved of no value to her, she said.

By glowing promises of wealth to be derived from the rich mines declared to be the actual property of the company, Williams succeeded in floating a $1,000,000 concern. Letters and prospectuses were sent out bearing the information that the company possessed 2000 acres of land which was rich enough to be worked for twenty years by the hydraulic mining process, and produce from 25 cents to $10 a cubic yard clear profit for the working.

$480,000,000 SCHEME.

In a letter to W. S. Maxwell of San Francisco Williams gives the information that the holdings of the company are known as the "Secret Diggings" between Suss-Maria and Murray creeks in Calaveras county. He declares that there are 48,400,000 cubic yards of rich quartz and placer mining ore ready to be worked, which will net the company over $480,000,000. This letter was written January 18, 1909.

At that time the company had been organized but for a short time. Willims gives the officials of the company as follows:

W. E. Nicholson, president, First National bank.
Edward A. Smith, first vice-president.
Dr. A. E. Byron, second vice-president.
A. E. Williams, secretary.
C. C. Borton, treasurer, vice-president of I. V. Ralph & Co.
Capital stock, $1,000,000.
Works: Secret Diggings, Mother Lode.

DIRECTORS WITHDRAW.

It appeared later that these directors were intended by Williams as a dummy board. Nicholson stated this morning that when the directors discovered the real facts of the situation they withdrew from the organization and this was confirmed by other members of the board.

Dr. A. E. Byron, who has offices in the Sherman-Clay building, said this morning:

"I had offices near Williams in the bank building about two years ago, and occasionally went to him for notary work. One day he asked me if I would become a director in his mining company, stating that he had large holdings of land in Calaveras, and that a wealthy physician in Alameda had provided the capital for development.

"To help him out I agreed, and by the same means he induced several other Oaklanders to become officials in his company. At the first meeting we discovered that all he wanted was that we should be put down as officers of a corporation. He decided to handle the funds and vote the shares, and refused to permit us to know anything of the financial standing of the company.

"When we saw how things were going we refused to have anything to do with the concern further, and he took entire charge. I do not know whether he elected other officials or not. He offered me some stock as a return for my services as a director, but I refused to receive this. I do not know whether any development work was ever done, but I know that he must have had some funds as he had a bank account in the First National."

Mrs. Glud, with several others, owned a claim known as the General Grant Placer claim of 160 acres. She went to Williams with this and he told her he would organize a company to develop it. Then she signed it over to the company, as she thought, but afterward discovered that she had deeded it to Mrs. Lillie B. Bailey, a sister of Williams. This was afterward deeded to Mrs. Ellen Gleason and sold for $7000, but despite this fact the land was used in the prospectus and in the incorporation of the company as alleged company property.

LAND NOT VALUABLE.

Investigation by H. W. Gray of the State Mining Bureau proved that the company and Williams had a location claim to about 500 acres of land in the "Secret Diggings." This land did not prove valuable.

After the incorporation of the company Williams voted 60,000,000 shares of stock to Mrs. Bailey, his sister, for the General Grant placer claim, which she had deeded to Mrs. Gleason, and which had been obtained from Mrs. Glud. He voted 16,000,000 shares of stock to himself, and this, according to the books, has been sold, although the mining experts have been unable to discover the price per share. It appears that the price has varied within extensive limits.

About 150 residents of Oakland and Alameda have been induced to take stock in the company, among them a number of school teachers. D. V. Duell, the architect, Mrs. W. Stickney of Alameda, Mrs. Hawkins, a school teacher, and a numbers of others are among the stockholders.

Williams has refused to talk about the matter, but declares that he was engaged in a legitimate business and that none of the people with whom he had had business relations were victimized.

BURGLARS CARRY OFF LOOT IN CART

House on Ocean Beach Is Stripped Clean by Bold Crooks.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—During the absence of G. A. Turner and family from their home on the ocean beach, Forty-Sixth avenue, between Q and R streets, burglars carried off almost the entire contents of the premises.

"Shorty" Roberts, proprietor of a road house nearby, notified Policeman Lowenberg of his belief that something was going wrong yesterday and the officer discovered everything torn up and a bundle of clothing and a piece of sewing machine ready to be carried off.

He stood guard nearby and was relieved by Officer Zocchi. If the thieves return they will be given a warm reception.

DOG GUARDS BODY OF HIS MASTER

Refuses to Let Rescuers Come Near Him and Death Results.

ALAMEDA, July 19.—With his pet dog watching over him, Captain Peter Johnson of Mountain View District near Modesto, whose home is in this city, died yesterday after a fainting spell. Heart disease is supposed to have caused the death.

Captain Johnson was overcome with heat while working with John Mitchell and his son, on their ranch. Johnson was standing on the opposite side of the irrigation ditch from his companions. He shouted that a break had occurred and Mitchell and his son ran to the nearest bridge. Mitchell saw Johnson fall and rushed to his rescue, then running to the ditch for water. When he returned the dog refused to allow him to come near his master who died before Mitchell could reach him with the water. Johnson's widow and son reside at 547 Santa Clara avenue, this city. The remains of deceased reached this city today for burial.

SUFFRAGISTS MAKE APPEAL FOR BALLOT AT BIG MEETING

MRS. AGNES RAY, president of the Oakland Equal Suffrage Amendment League, who presided at the meeting held last night. —Stewart, Photo.

"Free women and give them the right to vote" was the sentiment of the mass meeting held last evening under the auspices of the Oakland Suffrage Amendment League in the auditorium of the First Unitarian church, Fourteenth and Castro streets. Leading suffragists of this city and a large company of men attended the session. The speakers of the evening were Mrs. Helen M. Wixson, superintendent of public instruction of Colorado, who gave her views on "The moral and political situation in Colorado since equal suffrage"; Miss Gail Laughlin, a lawyer of Denver, and the first woman attorney to argue a case before the Supreme Court of the United States, who answered an article by Richard Barry in an eastern journal, in which he stated that suffrage for women in Colorado had been a failure. A. H. Elliot and Mrs. Sarah Bortland, one of the active workers in the league, delivered short addresses. Mrs. Agnes Ray, president of the Oakland Equal Suffrage Amendment League, presided. Among those seated upon the platform were: Mrs. Sturtevant-Peet, Mrs. Austin Sperry, Rev. William Day Simonds, Mrs. Jean Kellogg and Mrs. Frances Williamson.

WOMAN A HUMANITARIAN.

"Many of the humanitarian laws which have been written in the statute books had been passed through the efforts of the women of Colorado," said Mrs. Wixson, who has been a voter in that state for many years.

"Women have had a clear vision and the ballot was given to them as a matter of justice. They have used it well and faithfully, and there is not the faintest danger today of the franchise ever being taken away from the women of Colorado, because they have used it every bit as intelligently as the men. The word male has been stricken from the constitution of the state and women are citizens in the same sense the men are citizens.

"Since women have had the ballot a higher class of men have been chosen for office and a better class of laws have been made.

"And to you women of California I would say that it seems to me that you have chosen the psychological moment, and I am positive that the amendment will carry next October and that another star will have been added to the suffrage flag. And, best of all to contemplate, is this: That when the women of the United States have been given the ballot we shall have international peace; war will have been done away with for all time."

"There was more vice in Colorado before women voted than there is today and there is not the slightest danger that the franchise will be taken away from the women," argued Miss Gail Laughlin in her address attacking the effusion upon women's suffrage written by Richard Barry, who she declared had falsified in all his statements.

"Aside from this and to show you how suffrage has made good I wish to say that in 1902 Congress was asked by us to appoint a commission to investigate results in the states where women voted. This commission was denied us because it was fought by those opposed to woman suffrage. In Colorado today we have the most advanced laws for the protection of children in the world and the women of the state are responsible for this. We have made the state the mother as well as the father of the child. A state has everything to gain and nothing to lose by granting the franchise to women."

BEARS MESSAGE TO ADVENTISTS

Dr. Farnsworth Preaches Sermon Based Upon Bible Prophesy.

"In the days of these kings, shall the God of heaven set up a Kingdom, which shall never be destroyed." Daniel 11: ixiv.

Choosing for his subject the above quotation from Daniel II or the prophesy of the great image, Dr. Farnsworth addressed a large audience last night at the Adventist camp meeting, tracing this wonderful prophetic period of time from Nebuchadnezzar, King of Babylon, throughout each dynasty, in which are foretold the historical events in this world's history, written by inspiration through the Prophet Daniel, 606 B. C., clear down to our own time.

Beginning with Nebuchadnezzar, which the Bible says is the head of gold, in the great image, four kingdoms were traced—Babylon, Persia, Grecia and Rome—the speaker followed his thoughts to the feet of miry clay and iron, or the ten toes or ten divided conditions of Europe today, as they exist. Then, as one kingdom succeeded another, and Rome succeeded Grecia," so said Dr. Farnsworth, "Christ's kingdom shall succeed Rome, and all of the kingdoms of the whole earth shall become the kingdoms of our Lord Jesus Christ."

KINGDOM OF WORLD.

"The big image," said the speaker, "we found was the kingdoms of this world which will be succeeded by Christ or the stone and His kingdom shall be an everlasting kingdom and it shall not be destroyed.

"According to this prophecy, dear friends, we have been living on the toes or feet of miry clay and iron for many years and as there is no other prophecy in this image to be fulfilled, except the dashing to pieces of the whole image by the stone Christ, then where are we, dear friends, in the history of this world; where are we living, when the Bible tells us that stone is Jesus Christ himself, then, if all the other kingdoms, empires and governments and political parties will fall, where shall we be found?"

TELLS OF KINGS.

Dr. Farnsworth then proceeded to show how many kings and rulers had tried to found an universal empire to subjugate or rule the whole world. How Alexander, Caesar and Napoleon had undertaken by conquest and almost succeeded, and then by marriage even going so far as to divorce Josephine in his ambition to carry his plan.

"Today in Europe," said the speaker, "the royal families are so intermarried, mingled with the seed of men, to uphold their crowns, that if a war broke out, relatives would be found fighting and trying to kill relatives. Europe has become an armed camp in time of peace, and every nation in Europe stands with hand upon the sword, and each one courts the friendship of some other nation for power and support as they play a game of political chess in diplomacy."

CUT ASSESSMENT ON CLARK PALACE

Disregard of Expense Adds Nothing to Taxable Values in New York.

NEW YORK, July 19.—The whims of men of great wealth which cause them to disregard expense in equipping their residences adds little to taxable values, according to a decision of a state Supreme Court justice in reducing the tax assessments on the Fifth avenue mansion of former Senator Clark of Montana.

Senator Clark brought proceedings to review the assessment. Experts testified that the fittings were the most costly that the world could produce, that the mansion contained such luxuries as cold-storage plants, a concealed garage, a swimming pool, an art gallery, a miniature theater, a solarium and an astronomical observatory.

COSTLINESS IS UNIQUE.

"We find," says the court in its ruling, "that the building is unique in the sense that it is more costly than other residences in the city, and that the owner, by total disregard of expense, has been able to gratify all his whims. But the building has no real rental value. Witnesses have established that in a house intended for the occupancy of men of great wealth, features representing the individual taste add little to the value.

"We therefore concluded that in a house of this cost, built in so individual manner, it is fair to deduct at least one-third from the cost of production in order to arrive at its value."

The court reduced the assessment from $3,500,000 to $3,240,000.

FELL IN LOVE WITH WOMAN IN PICTURE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19. — Victor Morawetz, former chief counsel and chairman of the board of the Santa Fe railroad system, is in San Francisco with his bride, formerly Miss Violet Westcott of Syracuse, N. Y., with whose portrait he first fell in love in the New York studio of Mrs. Albert N. Herter about a year ago.

Captivated by the painting, Morawetz went all the way to Paris to find the original and after a strenuous courtship by motor over 8000 miles of European country, he finally married the girl, whom he called his "art ideal," in London last April. Mrs. Morawetz, who is the beautiful daughter of Edward Noyes Wescott, author of "David Harum," lived for eight years in Santa Barbara.

DOCTOR LOCATES LEPROSY GERM

Moses T. Clegg Now Searching for Means of Prevention.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—Dr. Moses T. Clegg, assistant director of the leprosy investigation station at Honolulu, announced yesterday upon his arrival in San Francisco on the steamer Sierra that he has located the leprosy germ and is conducting experiments with his associates which he expects to result in the discovery of serums and vaccines that will prove fatal to the disease.

"The Pacific Coast is safe from cholera," said Dr. Clegg yesterday at the Palace Hotel, "because of the fact that it is twenty-five days distant from the Orient. I have never known of a case where the cholera germ was carried longer than three weeks without becoming apparent, and it is usually much less than that."

Dr. Clegg is on a furlough and will spend about a month in the East. He spent seven years in Manila, where he inaugurated the leprosy investigation which is being prosecuted by the government. He has been a year in Honolulu.

ILLNESS CALLS HALT IN WEDDING PLANS

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—The wedding of George C. Beckley and Miss Beatrice Campbell, sister of the Princess David Kawananakoa, which was scheduled to take place in this city August 1, may have to be postponed on account of the illness of the bridegroom. Soon after Beckley's arrival yesterday on the Siberia he was removed from the St. Francis hotel to the German hospital, where he will be confined several days owing to a minor operation.

Miss Campbell, who accompanied her sister, the princess, to London some weeks ago to attend the coronation festivities, arrived from New York this morning with her stepfather, Colonel Sam Parker.

HONEST MAN REFUSED TO DODGE CUSTOMS

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—Collector of the Port Stratton was taken by surprise yesterday when C. F. Stevens, a wealthy New Yorker, who returned here on the steamer Sierra on its last voyage, after an extended trip in the Orient, walked into the collector's office and taking a $6000 emerald from his pocket asked how much duty he owed on the jewel.

As a reward for his honesty he is to be permitted to send the jewel, which was secured in Delhi, to Tiffany's, in New York, for examination. It is to go under bond and should it prove satisfactory, upon examination, Stevens will pay the duty, $1800, which is 60 per cent of its foreign value, $3000.

SMALL BOYS ARE JAILED AS CROOKS

Arsenal Found on Lads Who Are Caught in Act of Burglary.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—Two young desperadoes, Earl Nelson and Frank Weiss, 14 and 12 years old, respectively, were arrested late last night after they had attempted to rob the grocery store of Andrew Jacobson, 2500 Folsom street. Each was armed with revolvers, blackjacks and knives, wore a mask and had a complete set of burglar tools in their possession.

They were forcing open the money drawer in the cash register when Jacobson discovered them, and called the police. The youngsters started crying when they were seized, but they were taken to the city prison and afterwards sent to the Detention Home for the remainder of the night. The boys confessed to other robberies, stating that the reading of dime novels had suggested their crime career.

ENGLISH SUPPLANTS GREEK IN GERMANY

NEW YORK, July 19.—An important change is about to be made in the German system of national education, according to advices received here. Greek, which has hitherto been the pride of the German "gymnasia," is no longer to be obligatory, and English is to take its place.

Mrs. Selby and Prize Baby

"I have always used Cuticura Soap and no other for my baby and he has never had a sore of any kind. He does not even chafe as most babies do. I feel sure that it is all owing to Cuticura Soap, for he is fine and healthy, and when five months old, won a prize in a baby contest. It makes my heart ache to go into so many homes and see a sweet-faced baby with the whole top of its head a solid mass of scurf, caused by poor soap. I always recommend Cuticura, and nine times out of ten, the next time I see the mother she says, 'Oh! I am so glad you told me of Cuticura.'" (Signed) Mrs. G. A. Selby, Redondo Beach, Calif., Jan. 15, 1911.

Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, a liberal sample of each, with 32-page booklet will be sent, post-free, on application to "Cuticura," Dept. S, Boston.

WOULD PUT TRUST HEADS IN JAIL

Accused Ice Combine Officials Will Not Be Allowed to Pay Fines.

NEW YORK, July 19.—Jail sentences, and not fines, will be sought in the cases of the officials of the two New York ice companies, now under investigation, according to District Attorney De Ford, who is conducting the cases.

"This inquiry is in exactly the same position six or seven trust investigations have been," said De Ford, "with the exception that in this case if the proper evidence is secured our whole fight will be to secure jail sentences for the persons responsible. I have aided in the prosecution of six trusts and to my mind it appears clear that any work resulting in a mere fine imposed upon a corporation is wasted work."

The formal complaint against the companies lodged in the local courts makes sweeping charges of conspiracy in restraint of trade, alleging that the monopoly maintained in bygone years by the old American Ice Company is perpetuated by the defendants.

DEATH CALLS AGED MAN.

PORTLAND, July 19.—Stricken with heart failure at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George J. Loewenson, here yesterday, Benjamin Hermann, a pioneer meat dealer of San Francisco and for some years a retired capitalist, died at the age of 70 years today.

RAILWAY MEN ARE IN CONFERENCE

Result of Meetings Will Mean Much to San Francisco's Industries.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—That preliminary work for a union passenger depot near East and Mission streets is being contemplated, together with the immediate development of the Visitation yards, and probably an auxiliary ferry landing at the foot of Van Ness avenue, appears to be presaged by the conferences of the officials of the Western railroads now on in San Francisco.

Yesterday morning's session was devoted to a discussion of local problems, the meeting taking place in the offices of E. E. Calvin, vice-president and general manager of the Southern Pacific Company, in the Flood building. In the afternoon the Harriman officials traveled along the waterfront by ferry and later crossed to Oakland and inspected the Alameda county frontage.

In the evening the officials met again for a short time and then the visitors took the train for the south. Most of them will spend a day in Los Angeles and then return to their respective homes.

BEGIN WORK ON ROAD.

SANTA ROSA, July 19.—Actual work of construction on the Santa Rosa and Clear Lake Railroad will be begun here within fifteen days. Yesterday the sum of $5000 was deposited here.

GOTHAM ATTACKED BY 'HOSTILE' FLEET

Mimic War Breaks Out When Ships Try to Steal Into Port.

NEW YORK, July 19.—The city awoke and went about its business today unterrified by the knowledge that a hostile fleet was trying to steal or fight its way past a squadron of naval militia and a flotilla of torpedo boats defending the approach through Long Island Sound.

Until the naval officers in charge of maneuvers make their report to the Navy Department the movements of the opposite fleets will be largely a matter of conjecture. Wireless messages are forbidden and the engagement probably will occur beyond the range of observers on land.

Sounds of firing were heard about midnight off Block Island, but soon they ceased and it is possible they meant only the discharge of signal guns.

The whole eastern end of Long Island Sound is picketed by torpedo boats, destroyers and submarines. The little craft were sighted last night at various points along the Connecticut and Long Island shores, but nothing was seen of the majestic fleet of the enemy.

"WAR" BREAKS OUT.

BLOCK ISLAND, July 19.—Mimic war broke out around this little island a few hours after dawn today when nine battleships of the attacking "blue" fleet steamed in from the southeast and were met by five torpedo boat destroyers and a half dozen submarines.

Whether the battleships were theoretically sunk or the defending craft destroyed will not be known for some months.

Dawn revealed a few of the defending fleet. Over towards Montauk Point could be seen two destroyers, while to the eastward there were a few ripples on the smooth surface of the sea showing that the submarines were on guard.

ASTRONOMER NOW AVIATOR.

HEMPSTEAD, N. Y., July 19.—James R. Martin, formerly a professor of astronomy at Harvard, and now its most enthusiastic aeronautical expert, attempted to fly across Long Island Sound from Nassau field last night, but was compelled to turn back by engine trouble after an eighteen mile flight.

OPPOSE EFFORT TO CONSOLIDATE

Merchants' Exchange Directors Will Co-Operate on Exposition.

The directors of the Oakland Merchants' Exchange have placed themselves on record as opposed to the consolidation of the bay cities, proposed under the so-called "Greater San Francisco" movement in a resolution passed by them at their regular meeting held last night. At the same time they have expressed their willingness to co-operate with San Francisco in assuring the success of the fair of 1915, and to maintain harmonious relations at all times between the cities.

The resolution passed is as follows:

"Whereas, The Panama-Pacific Exposition to be held in San Francisco in 1915 will require the hearty co-operation of the entire Pacific coast to make it a success, and especially the harmonious and concerted action of all the cities situated on the bay of San Francisco.

"Whereas, The city of Oakland and the county of Alameda are working in the interest of said exposition and giving it most loyal support; and

"Whereas, No differences of opinion should be allowed to interfere with this harmonious spirit of co-operation, which should at all times exist between the cities on the east and west shores of San Francisco bay; therefore

"Resolved, By the Merchants' Exchange of Oakland that we are emphatically opposed to the agitation at this time of the so-called 'Greater San Francisco' question, as we believe it will have a tendency to create discord and bad feeling between the people of the two sides of the bay.

"Resolved, That we urge all good citizens to use their best efforts for the progress and prosperity of Alameda county and San Francisco county, leaving the political problems to be settled in the light of future developments and future conditions."

STATE LOANS $100,000 TO BANKS AT 2 PER CENT

SACRAMENTO, July 19.—One hundred thousand dollars was loaned to the banks of the state yesterday by State Treasurer Roberts, in accordance with a law adopted at the last session, which permits the state to loan its funds under proper security in bonds. The state will get two per cent interest.

S.S.S. FOR SCROFULA
NATURE'S PERFECT CURE

Swollen glands about the neck, weak eyes, running sores and abscesses, pale, waxy complexions and frail, poorly developed systems, are the most usual ways in which Scrofula is manifested. In some cases the blood is so filled with the scrofulous germs that from birth the disease shows its presence. In other cases it is held in check during young, vigorous life, but when the system begins to weaken, especially after a spell of sickness, the disease will often manifest itself in some form. S. S. S. is Nature's perfect cure for Scrofula, made entirely of healthful roots, herbs and barks, a perfectly safe medicine for young or old. S. S. S. goes into the circulation, and drives out all scrofulous matter, and supplies the blood with the healthful qualities it is in need of. In this way it builds up weak, delicate persons and makes them strong and healthy. Book on the Blood and medical advice free. S. S. S. is for sale at drug stores. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

PARTNER OF MURDERED COLORADAN IS HELD

TRINIDAD, Colo., July 19.—Following an investigation by the coroner's jury into the murder of Ignacio Disatio, the Italian rancher whose body was discovered on the outskirts of Aguilar, the lead man's former business partner, Dominic Piscone, was placed under arrest. Witnesses testified that the suspected man was seen about Disatio's house last night in a greatly agitated condition, and that a man was seen to go into Disatio's residence with a shotgun. It is said Piscone told conflicting stories.

OFFICERS RESCUE NEGRO FROM INFURIATED MOB

CINCINNATI, July 19.—Quick action by the police averted what gave promise of being a lynching in the center of the city, when a policeman rescued a negro named Charles Lawrence from an enraged crowd shortly after midnight.

It is alleged that Lawrence attempted to assault a 10-year-old girl. The negro was captured and almost beaten to death before the officers could get him.

CUBAN REBELLION HIS PREDICTION

Threatened Outbreak Said to Be on Account of Oppression of Working People.

NEW YORK, July 19.—General Giuseppe Garibaldi has word from his brother in Cuba that a revolution is likely to break out there almost any day. His brother writes that the working people have been harshly oppressed by the government and are on the point of taking up arms. General Garibaldi told 300 Italian-Americans last night at the Broadway Central hotel that he had been invited to go to Cuba and take the leadership of the insurgents. He has not replied to the invitation yet, but said: "I am the grandson of my grandfather, and it is my duty to go where the people are oppressed."

In his brief talk Garibaldi said he was not sure where he would go next, although he has been receiving invitations from revolutionary committees in many countries. The time for a revolution in Albania had not yet come, he thought. His father has been in Italy organizing help for Albania. Then he mentioned the probability of an outbreak in Cuba. James E. March, a politician, organized the dinner to show General Garibaldi how much the Italian residents of this city admire him.

ALLEGED SWINDLER CAUGHT IN COLORADO

SEATTLE, Wash., July 19.—C. H. Everett, wanted on a charge of having swindled the Peoples Savings Bank of Seattle out of $1621, was arrested in Canyon City, Colo., today, according to advices received by the sheriff's office from a detective agency. Everett, who is accused of having defrauded banks in nearly every city on the Pacific coast, was arrested at Hot Springs, Ark., several months ago, but broke jail and escaped before the extradition papers for his removal from the State were approved.

It is asserted that the detectives have also connected Everett with the theft of $78,000 in gold bullion from the steamship Humboldt while on his way from Alaska last year.

LOWER RATES ORDERED ON LUMBER FROM NORTH

WASHINGTON, July 19.—The interstate commerce commission yesterday, in the case of the Oregon & Washington Lumber Manufacturers' Association against the Southern Pacific and other Pacific coast carriers, held that the existing rate of $5 a ton on rough green fir from points in the Willamette valley to San Francisco and points taking the same rates was unreasonable.

The carriers are ordered to put the rate at $3.50 a ton, excepting the Wendling branch, from points on which a rate of $3.75 is ordered. The rates prescribed do not apply to mills located within the city of Portland, Ore., which take a uniform rate of $5 a ton on all kinds of lumber.

EXTRAVAGANZAS IN HANDS OF AN EXPERT PRODUCER

FRANK STAMMERS, producer of ballets at Idora Park.

Those who have visited Idora Park during the past three weeks and witnessed the novel extravaganza productions have not hesitated to remark about the beautiful scenic effects obtained on the open air stage, which is absolutely devoid of the up-to-date mechanical devices employed on the stage of the modern theater. The Idora productions are a "seven days' wonder," both to the layman and to those versed in the methods of modern stage illusion. Spectators who go for the first time are at first disappointed. Nothing of a scenic nature is displayed. Except for an enlarged stage, the band shell containing Weber's band discoursing music, has for long been a familiar sight. When the time for the extravaganza approaches curtains are drawn. In less than a minute the curtains are opened, revealing a beautiful stage setting that would do credit to many a high-class production. The scenic and electrical effects obtained on this open air stage are indeed wonderful.

STAMMERS ORIGINATOR.

The credit for these novel open air productions goes to Frank Stammers, the producer. Not only does Stammers stage the artistic offerings, but he has originated the unique scenic devices and written the extravaganzas. In New York where Stammers does most of his work he is recognized as one of the foremost producers in the country. It was he who staged the first two "Merry Widow" companies that visited the Pacific Coast.

The list of big productions that Stammers has supervised is a long one and contains many of the names of America's foremost stars. He staged "El Capitan" and "Wang" for De Wolf Hopper; "It Happened in Nordland" for Lew Fields; "The Yankee Consul" for Raymond Hitchcock;" "Floradora" with Edna Wallace Hopper, and many shows for Frank Moulin, Grace Van Studdiford and a host of others. He is also a musician of ability, being musical director for Maude Adams when she toured in the "Little Minister."

MILL OF JUSTICE GRINDS OUT 14 NEW LAWYERS

SACRAMENTO, July 19.—Fourteen applicants took examination for admission to the bar before the justices of the Third District Court of Appeal yesterday and all were successful. On the day before there were eighteen applicants, all of whom passed, so that all told thirty-two applicants have been added to the ranks of the lawyers of the state. The remarkable thing about the examinations was that not one failure was recorded.

These applicants who were awarded certificates to practice law today are: Hugh J. Tye, a policeman of Stockton; Donald McKissick of Sacramento, Hector Tarrett of Healdsburg, Jay E. Powers of Los Angeles, Herbert L. Iasiga of Los Angeles, W. A. Carpenter of Ukiah, Everett A. Ingalls of Napa, Walter C. Fisher of Los Angeles, George H. Deans of Sacramento, Thomas E. Reynolds of Vacaville, Marl K. Burns of Dorris, Jas. L. Hare of Woodland, B. W. Utter of Sacramento, and Kimbal Fletcher of Los Angeles.

WANTS TO KNOW NAMES OF SHIP'S FIVE MASTS

EDITOR TRIBUNE: There is a five-masted schooner lying at DeFremery wharf in East Oakland. My little boy is interested in shipping and went to eleven men in our neighborhood this evening to learn the names of the five masts and not one could answer. He got as far as mainmast, foremast and mizzenmast, but could not learn the names of the other two. He is not the only one interested, as each of the neighbors asked said when he found out to let them know. Will you kindly inform us—though sorry to trouble you to look it up—the names of the five masts. Or, if you will inform us where to look to learn the names I will gladly look them up.

With thanks in advance, I am
A SUBSCRIBER FOR THE PAST SEVEN YEARS.

The masts named in their order from bow to stern are: Foremast, mainmast, mizzenmast, jiggermast, spankermast.

GIRL BADLY MANGLED BY ESQUIMAU DOG

SOUTH HARPSWELL, Me., July 19.—Attacked by Old King, one of the largest and most ferocious of Commander Peary's pack of Esquimau dogs, at Eagle Island, Margaret, the ten-year-old daughter of Professor Herbert V. Neal of Tufts College, who is summering here, was horribly bitten about the feet and legs. The keeper of the island, who has charge of the dogs, had great difficulty in rescuing the child.

Old King, the leader of the Peary pack, dashed down over the rocks and attacked the girl, biting her bare feet and literraly tearing the flesh from her plump little legs. The screams of the child, mingled with the yelping of the pack, brought the keeper of the island to the scene. With much difficulty the dogs were finally driven back and the little girl, semi-conscious, her legs terribly lacerated and bleeding, was picked up and carried to a place of safety.

MISSING AT TACOMA.

TACOMA, Wash., July 19.—Forty-two warrants sworn out against saloon men for violations of the anti-treating ordinance have mysteriously disappeared from a drawer in police headquarters. The warrants were sworn out by detectives employed to do the detective work and get evidence.

MOTION PICTURE HOUSE BUILDING

Magnificent San Pablo Avenue Theater to Be Ready in October.

Plans have been accepted and construction began on the new motion picture theater to be known as the Empress, in San Pablo avenue adjoining the Bell Theater. A. S. & J. Cohn are the men behind the deal and they propose to give Oakland the finest motion picture house west of Chicago, if not in all the United States.

The building will be of the class A style—steel and concrete construction and absolutely fireproof in every detail—and will cost, including interior decoration and furnishings, $35,000. It is of the two-story type, has a length of 113 feet and is 22 feet wide. Besides the magnificent main entrance on San Pablo avenue, surmounted with a handsome marquee, there is a wide and brilliantly lighted exit and entrance to Broadway directly from the main aisle of the auditorium, passing under the stage.

While the Empress will be pre-eminently a moving picture theater, the provisions in the plans now in the hands of the architects show a richness and sumptuousness of detail usually found only in the most expensive theaters of the world.

The entire front of the building is to be of porcelain castwork in bas relief, depicting masks and designs symbolical of the drama and all to be handsomely executed and cast in radiant colors with myriads of incandescent lights artistically arranged.

LAVISH DECORATIONS.

The interior provides for lavish decoration in gold leaf and electric fixtures of the most handsome and expensive type—in fact the same class of fixtures as are at present installed in the Belasco Theater in New York.

The comfort of the patrons of the Empress will be arranged for in the heating and cooling apparatus, to be installed, means being provided by which the temperature may be raised or lowered to suit. The seating capacity will provide for three hundred and fifty Russian leather chairs, spring seats and panel front and back, the very acme of comfort and elegance.

The interior lighting effects will be of the lasest idea, the invisible lighting system being employed which sheds a soft or brilliant radiance over the entire auditorium without the attendant glare.

It is planned to have the building ready for business on October 1, next.

MORE THAN MILLION PAID FOR GOLD MINE

KINGMAN, Ariz., July 19. — With a check for $1,200,000, the sales price of the famous Gold Road mine, tucked away in his inside pocket, William Bailey, representing the Gold Road stock holders, left last night on a fast train for Los Angeles, where he will begin the disbursement of the money.

At Prescott the sale of the mine to the United States Smelting Company, represented by Sydney J. Jennings of Boston, was ratified by the stock holders, and Jennings gave Bailey his personal check for the amount. Today the smelter company took over the property, nearly all of the directors being here for that purpose. The total sale price was about $1,600,000, the amount over the check received by Bailey going to the liquidation of outstanding bonds.

The mines are located 24 miles southeast of this place.

The check written for the stock holders is believed to be the largest single amount ever transferred in an Arizona mining deal.

JURY AMENDMENT NOT TO GO ON THE BALLOT

SACRAMENTO, July 19.—Although L. B. Mallory, chief clerk of the Assembly, certified to the Secretary of State the adoption of Senate constitutional amendment No. 13, by Boynton, when, as a matter of fact, the amendment was defeated in the Assembly, it will not go upon the ballot of the special constitutional election next October. Mallory's mistake was detected in time, but not until the proposed amendment had been printed in chapter form at the State printing office.

The proposed amendment provided that three-fourths of a jury could render a verdict in criminal cases, except in those where the death penalty could be inflicted or life imprisonment imposed.

'BILLION DOLLAR' POLICE STAFF THING OF PAST

CHICAGO, July 18. — Chief of Police McWeeney has recalled the stars worn by the "billion dollar" personal staff of the Superintendent of Police, numbering 150 and composed of presidents of banks, heads of corporations, merchants, lawyers, judges and politicians.

The custom of having a personal staff composed of prominent citizens whose principal duty it was to wear a star, has been in vogue for fifteen years.

Among those who have been asked to surrender their stars are: Lieutenant-Governor Oglesby, J. Ogden Armour and Edward F. Swift.

AUSTRIANS FLOCKING TO OIL SECTION OF STATE

BAKERSFIELD, July 19.—There will be more than 6000 Austrians in Bakersfield within the next three years, according to natives of Austria who are here now.

The reports which have been sent to the fatherland from fellow countrymen who have sought their fortunes in this country have been so favorable that emigration officials of the fatherland who are advising those leaving the country as to the best locations are recommending California and Kern county.

MORMONS TO PURCHASE 65,000 ACRES IN STATE

SANTA BARBARA, July 19. — The Cuyama ranch of about 65,000 acres is to be purchased by a colony of Mormons, who have an option on the property and whose agents expect to close negotiations soon. Caesar Latailade, one of the owners of the ranch, said today that the project is assured. More than 500 Mormon families are expected to settle on the ranch and they propose to build a modern city. They will develop the land on an extensive scale, having already arranged for irrigation.

ESCAPED WITH HIS LIFE.

I tried everything I could hear of for my cough, and was under the treatment of the best doctor in Georgetown, S. C., for a year, but could get no relief. A friend advised me to try Dr. King's New Discovery. I did so, and was completely cured. I feel that I owe my life to this great throat and lung cure." 'OLD FITZ,' THE 'OVERCOAT MAN,' FOUND DEAD IN BED

PHOENIX, Ariz., July 19.—D. H. Fitzgibbons, seventy years old, and notorious in Phoenix for wearing an overcoat in all weathers, even when he wore no coat, was found dead in his bed tonight under several blankets and quilts, and with his overcoat spread over all. Fitzgibbons, who was without relatives here, always complained of the cold, and it is supposed that he smothered himself under the heavy coverings in the heat last night.

GOTHAM TOLL GATES NO LONGER EXIST

NEW YORK, July 19.—Beginning today New York city will no longer collect toll from vehicles crossing the East River bridges. The toll gates, an institution ever since the Brooklyn bridge was erected thirty years ago, were discontinued at midnight by order of Mayor Gaynor, who found that the tolls taken upon these structures were not authorized by law.

CURING CATARRH

Accept Our Advice and Try This Remedy at Our Risk.

Catarrah is a disease of the mucous membrane. The mucous membrane is, one may say, the interior lining of the body. Catarrh therefore may exist in any part of the system.

When the catarrhal poison attacks the mucous membrane, inflammation and congestion are produced and nature fails to throw off the accumulated poisons. The organ which has been afflicted ceases to perform its proper function as nature intended it should. The result is, complication upon complication, which may lead to other even more serious afflictions.

We honestly believe Rexall Mucu-Tone will do wonders toward overcoming catarrh. It is made from the prescription of an eminent physician who made a long study of catarrh, and by his great success with this remedy was an enviable one.

We want you, if you are a sufferer from catarrh in any form, to give Rexall Mucu-Tone a thorough trial. Use it with regularity and persistency for a reasonable time, then if you are not satisfied, come back and tell us, and without question or formality we will hand back to you every cent you paid us. This is certainly the fairest offer that anyone could make and should attest our sincerity of purpose. It comes in two sizes, prices 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain it only at the Owl Drug Co., Inc., Tenth and Washington, Thirteenth and Broadway, Sixteenth and San Pablo.

YOUTHFUL QUARTET HELD FOR MURDER

Two Girls and Two Boys Are Charged With Killing Colorado Rancher.

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo., July 19.—Direct charges of murder were filed today against Lee Baker, Virgil Wilson, Gladys Thompson and Lillian Osborne, ranging in ages from 14 to 17 years, as a result of the coroner's inquest, which held them for the death of Claude A. Wolfkill, a wealthy bachelor rancher.

The body of Wolfkill was found Wednesday by the boys on the bank of the creek near Clifton.

The four are held without bail and only Baker is allowed to see anyone. He is being allowed this privilege in the hope that he will make a confession.

In an interview today, Baker declared they could not do any more than send him to the penitentiary for life, and that he was not much use out of jail anyway. Baker insists that the others have not been telling the truth, and today said it was a good thing they were kept in separate cells, for they would make up a pack of lies if allowed to confer with one another.

None of the children seem to take the matter very seriously, and continue to laugh and joke about their arrest.

INQUIRY ADJOURNED.

NEW YORK, July 19.—The expected hearing on the second-class mail matter before the committee appointed by President Taft was adjourned yesterday until August 1 to permit the postoffice department to prepare evidence that will then be introduced at the basis of the inquiry.

WOMAN ESCAPES OPERATION

Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Elwood, Ind.—"Your remedies have cured me and I have only taken six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was sick three months and could not walk. I suffered all the time. The doctors said I could not get well without an operation, for I could hardly stand the pains in my sides, especially my right one, and down my right leg. I began to feel better when I had taken only one bottle of Compound, but kept on as I was afraid to stop too soon."—Mrs. SADIE MULLEN, 2728 N. B. St., Elwood, Ind.

Why will women take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion, and nervous prostration.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be absolutely confidential, and the advice free.

BELIEVE BLAZE WAS INCENDIARY

Fruitvale Police Seek Clew to Party Who Burned New Dwelling.

UPPER FRUITVALE, July 19.—It is believed by the police that the fire which completely destroyed a four-room frame dwelling at Sutter and Charles streets, early Tuesday morning, was of incendiary origin. The fact that to the certain knowledge of G. H. Lewis, the contractor, who had just completed the building, there were no combustibles in the house, bears out the theory of the police. While the wiring and gas piping was completed, neither the gas nor power had yet been turned on, and the house was vacant.

The building was owned by S. A. Potter of Potter & Company, a real estate firm with officises at 400 Sutter street. Insurance was carried in the amount of $1200. The loss is estimated at over $2000. An investigation will be made by the police.

Mosby, Laffiln and Rhys were arraigned before United States Commissioner Williams and re-committed to the county jail, as the crimes of which they are accused, under the treaty with Mexico, are not bailable. Their hearing was set before Commissioner Williams for next Monday.

M. C. CHAPMAN
President

The New County Assessor.

The election of Frederick C. Horner to the office of County Assessor is commendable in every respect. It puts into one of the most important county offices a man of character, probity, experience in public affairs and of proved capacity. It is an assurance that the public will be faithfully and honorably served.

Mr. Horner is a citizen of the best type, capable and successful in private business and equally upright and competent in dealing with public affairs. For nearly nine years he has served on the Board of Supervisors. In that body he has made an admirable record for diligence, efficiency and solicitude for the interests of the taxpayers. One of the objects he has striven for with energy and persistence is the construction of a modern system of highways throughout the county. He has made good roads a study and a hobby. His efforts have left an indelible record on the highway system of Alameda county.

Much can be said in Mr. Horner's favor, but nothing against him. He is a clean man in private and public life, a sincere, home-loving, courteous, cultured citizen, with a vigorous mind and a progressive spirit. He will do his duty wherever placed and do it in a manner to win respect and approval. He will make this county a first-class Assessor, which is to say that he will assess all property equitably and in strict accordance with the mandates of the law.

In honoring their former colleague the Supervisors have honored themselves and done the public an excellent service. They know his worth as a man and his capacity as an official, and his election is not only a testimonial to his fitness, but an evidence of the personal regard in which he is held by men who have long been associated with him in an official way.

Daniel J. Murphy, who succeeds Mr. Horner on the Board of Supervisors, is an old and highly respected citizen of Livermore. His ability and integrity are unquestioned, his standing is high and his repute among his neighbors of the very best. He has served the public in various capacities, in all of which he has acquitted himself with credit to himself and in a manner to win the approval of the people he served. At different times in the past he has served as town trustee and postmaster of Livermore, and at the time of his appointment as Supervisor was serving as Justice of the Peace of Livermore Township. He has character, experience and the good opinion of his neighbors, and should make an excellent Supervisor, and THE TRIBUNE is confident that he will.

Livermore has not had a representative on the county board since Hiram Bailey retired from office, but the appointment of Mr. Murphy will again give that section a Supervisor. This should be gratifying to the people of Livermore valley, and doubtless is, for they have repeatedly given proof of the trust they repose in Mr. Murphy.

There is anything but peace in Mexico under the new regime. The partisans of Madero have already come to blows with the adherents of President de la Barra. Strikes, which almost assume the form of mob rioting, are closing down mines and manufacturing plants all over the country. Crop failure has aggravated the distress caused by commercial and industrial stagnation and the destruction of civil war. The ignorant masses are in a state of discontent and unrest that may break out at any time into excesses of the wildest sort. Serious disorders are daily occurring because of the hard times and general distress prevailing throughout the country. The poor people were inflamed to revolt against the Diaz government by glowing promises that high wages and plenty would follow the success of the revolution. The revolution was successful, but the abundance and high wages promised have not come. The masses are much worse off than before, and conditions appear to be growing from bad to worse. Faction fighting has been resumed and the government is divided against itself. The strong hand has been lifted and chaos threatens.

The Increased Consumption of Liquor.

Despite the wave of prohibition that is sweeping over some parts of the country, the consumption of liquor in the United States is increasing at a much faster rate than the population. In 1900 the population of the United States was 75,994,575; in 1910 it was 91,792,267—an increase of 21 per cent. In this period, however, the increase in the consumption of alcoholic liquors was 43 per cent. Increase in consumption, mind you, not increase in production.

Yet during this same period Georgia, Mississippi, North Caroline, Oklahoma, Alabama and Tennessee, with an aggregate population of 12,592,559, passed laws absolutely prohibiting the manufacture and sale of liquor within their borders. Local option laws in many other States restricted the territory in which liquor can be lawfully sold. But the sale and consumption of liquor goes on in this prohibition territory notwithstanding. The increase in consumption throughout the country proves that prohibition has not materially lessened the number of drinkers nor visibly decreased drunkenness.

During the decade just closed our exports of liquor fell off heavily, while our imports enormously increased—that is, we are buying an increasing proportion of our liquors from foreign countries. In 1900 we imported liquor to the value of $12,758,582. In 1909 we imported from foreign countries liquors to the value of $23,168,845. Thus with an increasing home market domestic production is not increasing in the ratio it should, even with the protection the tariff affords.

During the year 1900 the actual consumption of alcoholic liquors in the United States aggregated 1,349,176,033 gallons. During 1909—the latest statistics available—the consumption of all kinds of alcoholic liquors rose to 1,935,544,001 gallons. A simple computation shows that the increase in liquor consumption was a little more than double the increase in population. The report of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue shows that the number of retail liquor licenses has increased from 220,241 in 1900 to 237,458 in 1910. Despite the stringent prohibitory laws enacted in Alabama, Georgia, Tennessee, Mississippi, North Carolina and Oklahoma the Federal government issues a great number of licenses for the sale of liquor at retail in those States. The daily press reports, also the police records, prove that drunkenness is common in States where the sale of liquor is under legal ban and where it is supposed to be unobtainable. In those States the drug store and the "blind pig" have taken the place of the licensed and police-regulated saloon.

However, there is one redeeming feature to the dark showing. Beer is supplanting whisky in many sections of the country. The increase in liquor consumption does not imply an increase in the consumption of alcohol. The more beer the people drink the less alcohol they consume. Beer contains only from three to six per cent of alcohol, whereas whisky contains from 40 to 60 per cent. Thus drunkenness decreases with the increased consumption of beer. The reverse of this phenomenon appears in the prohibition States, where the secretive character of the traffic impels dealers to handle liquors containing a high percentage of alcohol. The liquor they sell is of the most fiery quality. It is generally a cheap compound of alcohol, drugs and water, highly injurious to health and quick in producing intoxication. The liquors are purer and milder where saloons are licensed and conducted publicly under police supervision.

Senator Heyburn is still fighting treason with Samson's weapon. In his opinion secession has never been put down, but is still rampant and in need of stern chastisement. He frequently takes occasion to remind the traitors of the South that they have been unduly favored in being allowed to live. He tells them to their face that they and their cause are accursed, and that they would today be disfranchised and their country sowed to salt if justice had been done. He waves the flag, my brothers, and talks and talks and talks. Patriotism never had a more valiant and loquacious champion nor treason a more fearless and garrulous foe. As long as Senator Heyburn's voice holds out the country is safe, the liberties of the American people secure. The geese that saved Rome by cackling at an opportune moment were almost deified by the Roman citizens. In Idaho they would have been made Senators and raised to the dignity of statesmen and orators. Senator Heyburn comes from Idaho. He is a good offset to Jeff Davis of Arkansas, and spices with farce the deliberations of the greatest legislative body in the world.

CHINA'S EGG INDUSTRY

The exportation of eggs from Tsingtau, German China, in 1910, was 1,821,183 dozens, against 955,409 dozens in 1909, the bulk going to Vladivostok. One factory, engaged in the export of prepared dried eggs and the manufacture of egg cognac, egg noodles, and albumen also uses about 320 dozens a day.

While this industry has existed here for several years, the products being shipped to Germany, no effort was made until recently to secure trade in the United States. A sample shipment has gone forward under the requirements of the American pure-food law, and it is confidently expected that a thriving business will result. The egg supply is drawn from the southern part of Shantung, Chihli, and Honan provinces, and with the latest German machinery a local firm has entered upon the business with hope of a substantial extension this year. The nature of the machinery and the system employed in making the various products are held secret, and the only information obtainable has been in connection with the sample shipment mentioned.

The eggs arrive at the factory packed in old kerosene oil boxes. They are carefully examined by being held close to a strong electric light which shows the least defect. The fresh ones are washed and passed on to several Chinese boys who open them and separate the yolk from the white.

With the aid of a suction pump the yolk passes through a large pipe into a vacuum in the machine and is dried in fifteen seconds. It is then passed on to a large receptacle into which the matter falls in the form of flakes which look clean, have a good color and a fresh odor. The flake is again passed through a machine and comes out in a powdered form ready for shipment. It is said that this product can be kept indefinitely if stored in a dry, cool place.

The whites of the eggs are put in small glass-bottom trays about a foot square, and placed on shelves in a room having a temperature of 40 degrees to 55 degrees C. After thoroughly drying the material is broken up in small pieces and ready for export. These sheets are sometimes powdered or reduced to a crystal form resembling granulated sugar.

The factory is taxed to the limit of its capacity and it is the intention of the company to enlarge.

Fashions in Child-Training

Dr. F. W. Van Dyke, addressing the Oregon State Medical Society, delivered a wholesome homily to dilettante parents. We do not agree with the doctor in all that he said concerning the natural perversity of children of tender age, but as that part of his address is wholly dissociated from his remarks anent neglectful parenthood. It is not necessary to raise an issue as to whether or not children are natural-born liars and thieves.

The fact is most obvious to students of the present-day fashion in child training and compared with that of thirty or forty years ago that the child has lost lamentably by the change. That point Dr. Van Dyke made good and strong, though it needs more than the utterance of one man or one hundred men to make the truth carry home.

The habit of careless parents, that of indifference to the conduct and whereabouts of their children, so long as they are not troubled by caring for them, is, in a moral sense, the manifestation of criminal negligence. And in that connection it frequently has been urged, and soundly as we conceive, that in a goodly percentage, if not a great majority of cases where the authorities must take note of children's delinquency, the responsibility and the laws's penalty should reach back to the parents who have had no thought of performing the duty which parenthood imposes.

Dr. Van Dyke deplores the transference of domestic teaching from the home to the schools. It is, in our opinion, a sign of family degeneration from the social and economic standpoint that the public schools should be obliged to teach girl pupils how to cook and to keep house. But with all that, the logic of this teaching works back to the home. If the school does its work properly, though it is work that should have been done at home, the educated housewife and mother of the future will, or should be, a person of enough intelligence to appreciate the value of home teaching in all essentials to contented domesticity.

Perhaps general and constant education along the lines suggested in the criticism of Dr. Van Dyke will ventually evolve a home-building spirit that will restore the family to its old-time ocupation of rearing splendid, self-respecting, high-purposed boys and girls.—Portland Telegram.

LIGHT ON THE REPORTER

No one can fairly charge Judge Holtcamp with opportunism or lack of accuracy when he declared, in the course of a trial the other day, that "he had found newspaper men as honest and reliable as lawyers." The remark was provoked by the statement of an attorney who had spoken disparagingly of reporters or interviewers for the newspapers.

Subsequent incidents in the trial in question threw an interesting light upon the relative merits and intelligence of the average man who attains a position in the public eye, if only for a little while, and the newspaper reporter.

One of the principals in the case declared that an interview with him, and published in one of the St. Louis newspapers, was false throughout; yet when he was questioned as to the various statements in the interview, he admitted that the reporter had not misrepresented him in any essential particular.

However, the newspaper reporter needs no defense, as much as he appreciates such thoughtful and just recognition of his merits as Judge Holtcamp accorded him.

Too many men who force themselves into high positions by sheer perseverence or by unscrupulous methods, are quite incapable of framing a correct sentence in English, when the simple form of one noun and one verb and one or two qualifying or descriptive words are added. The average "interview," taken down verbatim, or the average spoken language of any kind, would look almost incomprehensible if put into print.

Recognizing the fact, the reporter gets the gist of the "great man's" ideas, and seeks even to get a few of his phrases, for the sake of individuality in his report, and then proceeds to straighten out a jumble of illiterate language which might be taken to mean anything, but which the reporter is at great pains to comprehend fairly.

There are thousands of "big" men in all walks of life who cannot give clear instructions to their employes, or to others with whom they come in contact, yet who fume and complain mightily when they are not understood. Speech as clear and concise and as expert as the newspaper reporter's is not common. It may even be said, within the bounds of good taste, that the intelligence and integrity of the average reporter is of a high character.

The men of affairs, more or less large and important, who hides behind the statement that "the reporter did not quote him accurately," is woefully common—but he does not deceive the public.

Men with the graciousness manifested by Judge Holtcamp are, on the other hand, by no means common; and the judge's just and decent characterization is worth bearing in mind.—St. Louis Times.

Oakland Harbor's Demands

The proposal made by representative men of Oakland to Congressman Knowland that a resurvey of Oakland harbor be made preparatory to dredging it, should be backed by every county around the bay.

Oakland harbor is important to us all. The greatest mistake ever made in this state was in permitting such natural inlets from the bay of San Francisco as Mission bay, China basin and the bight between Rincon Hill and Telegraph Hill, San Francisco, to be filled in. They furnished a valuable protection against the southeasters that sometimes sweep the bay proper, and they kept from shoaling the waters around the old wharves. But they have gone and Oakland harbor alone remains as a desirable, safe inlet from the great arm of the sea called San Francisco bay. Its value is certain to increase as years go by. Today it is not appreciated as it should be.

There is scarcely any doubt that the charge made by Oaklanders as to their harbor not receiving credit for the volume of business done is correct. The principal termini of the great trans-continental railways, so far as freight-carrying is concerned, are in Oakland, and the harbor there is the place where deep-sea vessels and the railway trains come together. The Dumbarton cut-off will bring some of the freight to this peninsula, it is true, but we imagine that this cut-off will take care of only part of the increased freight.

At any rate, the demand that Oakland harbor be dredged is a just one and our representatives in Congress should support it to a man.—San Jose Times.

20 YEARS AGO IN OAKLAND

The will of William Hayward, deceased, founder of the town of Hayward, was filed for probate in the Superior Court today showing that the estate is valued at $90,000. Of this sum $65,000 consists of thirty acres of land in town.

Joe Goddard of Australia today defeated Joe Choynski of California in four rounds at Melbourne for a purse of $10,000 and the championship of that country.

The fight between M. Mulvihill of Hayward and George Freitas of San Leandro took place in a lonely barn on the road between San Leandro and Lake Chabot Saturday night and lasted but seventeen seconds. Mulvihill landed Freitas a blow on the jaw that floored him and took the purse of $100. J. P. Dieves was referee and G. Lacunia and Jack Steel seconds for the victor, and J. McGuire, Billy Smith and T. McDonald for Freitas. After the assembly had crawled into an upper story of the barn the ladder was drawn up. They were taxed $1 each for the spectacle.

Rev. J. L. Hatch's horse ran away on Saturday and broke the buggy. The damage is about $40.

The groom is a prominent capitalist of Denver and president of the Colorado Land and Orchard Company.

The wedding of William S. Armstrong of Oakland and Miss Nettie Miller of San Francisco was solemnized Thursday at the residence of the bride's mother in that city.

That half-a-million-dollar hotel would be a good thing to go along with the new schools, the boulevard and the great West Oakland park. Oakland is very wide-awake these days and there's no telling what will happen next.

CHAS. F. HORNER SWORN IN AS COUNTY ASSESSOR

Bond of $50,000 Filed and Approved; D. J. Murphy Takes Oath of Office as Supervisor

Charles F. Horner was sworn in as county assessor this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, Chief Deputy County Clerk A. J. Johnstone administering the oath of office. Soon after D. J. Murphy was sworn in as supervisor by Johnstone.

Horner's bond of $50,000 and Murphy's bond of $15,000, both furnished by a surety company, were filed. After scrutiny of these bonds they were aproved by Superior Court Judges T. W. Harris, W. S. Wells, E. J. Brown and John Ellsworth.

Murphy did not assume his duties as supervisor this morning as scheduled because of the fact that his commission as such officer did not arrive from Sacramento.

Inquiry at the office of the secretary of state at Sacramento by Deputy County Clerk Johnstone this morning resulted in the information that the commission in question had been mailed yesterday afternoon by means of registered letter and that it could not be expected to reach here before this afternoon.

When this information was imparted to the waiting supervisors this morning an adjournment was taken until 2:30 this afternoon.

IS NOT RADICAL.

It is understood that the new supervisor, D. J. Murphy, will not be radical in the making of appointments to the positions which he controls in his supervisorial district. Those places are mainly those of road foremen and road hands who are employed throughout the year in the building, the sprinkling and the repairing of county thoroughfares. There will be some changes, of course, but, in the main, they will be made for the purpose simply of improving the service, if such should be considered possible, for the reason that Supervisor Murphy's predecessor, ex-Supervisor Horner, had surrounded himself with a capable and devoted corps of employes.

Murphy is determined to pay a great deal of attention to the duties of his new position, which he is well qualified to do by reason of the fact that he has resided in the supervisorial district over which he now has charge for the greater part of his life. He is acquainted with every inch of the thoroughfares and knows just what is desired to keep them in the best condition and at the same time at the least possible expense to the taxpayer.

New Supervisor Has Had Experience in County Political Life

Daniel J. Murphy, who has been appointed by the Board of Supervisors to succeed Supervisor Horner in the First Supervisorial district, was born in the vicinity of Hayward in Alameda county, May 5, 1863. He was educated in the public schools of that section and near Dublin, also in this county.

He is a son of Captain Edward Murphy, a former rancher on the estate known as the Dougherty ranch, near Dublin, and who, after retiring from work in the fields, became the owner and manager of the Amador Valley Hotel at Dublin, which he ran for six years. He died about twenty-seven years ago.

Starting out in life, the son became a clerk of the Farmers' Union of Livermore. He remained there for four years and then became deputy sheriff under Sheriff Robert McKillican. He remained one year in that capacity and was then appointed postmaster of Livermore under the second administration of President Cleveland, succeeding in that position Joseph McCown, who had held the position for four years. He was succeeded by Reuben Hunter.

Murphy then became manager of the Livermore Water & Power Company and held the position for six years. It was about that time that the general auctioneer firm of Murphy & McDonald was formed and since then it has done probably the largest business of that kind in Alameda county, the senior member being the new supervisor.

ELECTED CITY TRUSTEE.

Murphy's next political office was that of city trustee of Livermore, a position which he held for eleven years, during five of which he served as the chairman of the board. He had a great deal to do in urging the advancement which Livermore has enjoyed during the last twelve years, and especially in the matter of public improvements of a substantial character.

In the early part of last year he was appointed justice of the peace, to succeed Justice Wright of Livermore, who was called by death. He served out the term, and at the last general election in November, 1910, was elected to fill the vacancy for the full term.

Murphy also served as game warden in the vicinity of his home place and showed great devotion in performing serviceable duties in that section, which abounds with game.

Supervisors Act on Receipt of Governor Johnson's Acceptance

Yesterday afternoon, the Board of Supervisors of Alameda county appointed C. F. Horner, a former member of the board, county assessor to succeed Henry P. Dalton, who is now imprisoned in the county jail, having forfeited his office by reason of having been convicted of a felony.

The appointment followed the acceptance, by Governor Johnson, of the resignation of Horner as supervisor for the fifth supervisorial district of this county, information of which acceptance was conveyed to the board in a communication as follows:

"I beg to inform you that I have, this day, received and accepted the resignation of C. F. Horner as supervisor of the first district of the county of Alameda; and to further advise you that, to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Mr. Horner, I have appointed D. J. Murphy of Livermore as supervisor of the first district, State of California.

"Very truly yours,

"HIRAM W. JOHNSON,
"Governor of California."

This was followed by the reading of the following regarding the issuance of the commission of the new supervisor:

"Sacramento, July 18.

"The Board of Supervisors, Courthouse, Oakland: This is to advise you that the resignation of C. F. Horner as supervisor for the first district has been duly accepted by the Governor, and D. J. Murphy of Livermore has been appointed supervisor in his place and the commission issued by the Secretary of State and forwarded today.

"THOMAS H. REED,
"Executive Secretary to the Governor."

Both these documents were ordered spread upon the records of the board.

ADOPT MOTION.

The following motion was then introduced by Supervisor Mullins, seconded by Supervisor Foss, and unanimously adopted by the votes of Supervisors Bridge, Foss, Kelley and Mullins, the chair being occupied by Kelley, Mr. Horner being present but taking no part in the proceedings:

"Whereas, This Board of Supervisors has been duly notified by the Honorable Everett J. Brown, Judge of the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Alameda, that Henry P. Dalton, assessor of Alameda county, has been duly convicted of a felony, to-wit, a violation of Section 68 of the Penal Code of the State of California, to-wit, asking and receiving a bribe; and

"Whereas, This Board of Supervisors has, this day, resolved and found that a vacancy exists in said office of assessor of Alameda county, and has declared the said office to be vacant; and

"Whereas, There is now a vacancy in the office of assessor of Alameda county by reason of the conviction of Henry P. Dalton of a felony; and

"Whereas, It duly appearing to this Board that C. F. Horner is now a qualified elector of the county of Alameda, State of California, and has been such for many years last past; and

"Whereas, It duly appears that said C. F. Horner is duly qualified for appointment as assessor of Alameda county;

Resolved, by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Alameda, State of California, that said C. F. Horner be, and he is hereby appointed assessor of the County of Alameda, State of California, from the 18th day of July, A. D. 1911, until 12 o'clock meridian, of the first Monday after the first day in January, A. D. 1915.

"Said C. F. Horner must execute an official bond in the sum of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000.00), said bond to be approved by the judges of the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Alameda, and then recorded and filed, as provided by law."

Immediately after the appointment of Supervisor Horner as county assessor, Supervisor Mullins and Supervisor Foss paid a short tribute to the conscientious manner in which Horner had discharged the duties of his office as supervisor. Horner was later congratulated by every person in the chamber.

This was followed by the reading of the resignation of D. J. Murphy as justice of the peace of Livermore township, which was accepted by the board.

An adjournment was then taken till this morning.

AAHMES TEMPLE TO MARCH TONIGHT

Local Order of Mystic Shrine Will Display Forces on Street.

Led by a band, the nobles and officers of Aahmes Temple, Ancient Arabic Order of Mystic Shrine, will parade the main thoroughfare of this city tonight. About 500 will march, in command of Captain Petersen, who will appear in shriners' uniform. The officers, in robes of the order, will ride in decorated automobiles. The parade will commence at 8 from the headquarters, Eleventh and Broadway. At the close of the outdoor festivities a reception will be tendered Illustrious Potentate Frank W. Bilger, who was one of the enthusiastic members instrumental in securing a charter for Oakland at the imperial council, held in Rochester, N. Y.

A dispensation was given to the local Shriners to establish a temple in Oakland at New Orleans in April, 1910, in spite of an adverse report. So successful has the development of the temple been that the regular charter was granted this year, through the efforts of Bilger and eight other local delegates.

The new charter, which is the third to be granted to California Shriners, will arrive in the city in about two weeks, when the temple will be constituted with elaborate ceremonies by a deputy to be appointed by the imperial potentate.

The local shrine will co-operate with Islam Temple of San Francisco in preparing for the entertainment of the imperial council in San Francisco in 1915.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19. — Alleging that her husband compelled her to work every day, including Sunday, with him in his tailor shop, sometimes until 1 or 2 o'clock in the morning, Natalia Tuur filed suit for divorce against Michael Tuur today. On his promise to reform, she returned, but was forced to leave him again yesterday.

GIRL DROPS FROM SIGHT AND FOUL PLAY IS FEARED

Police Asked to Find May Ilg, Missing Since Monday

Visit to Beauty Doctor the Only Clew Sleuths Have to Whereabouts

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19. — While a sorrowing family remains at home, answering with a quiver of anticipation every telephone call, hoping that it may mean the discovery of their loved one, and while the police are working desperately, Miss May Ilg, the 23-year-old girl who dropped from sight Monday night, is still among the missing.

Although possessed of more than ordinary beauty, Miss Ilg, it was learned later in the morning, has been worried about her complexion, which was marred recently by an attack of poison ivy. Detectives Webb and Cashel discovered that she had visited Dr. Miller, a beauty specialist, Monday, had paid him $50, received some lotions and told him she would return later.

Manager R. J. Gripp of the Standard Soap Company, residing at 947 Loreta avenue, Oakland, who had been a friend of the young woman for three years, had ordered the tickets at the Columbia for which Miss Ilg was to call. He is doing his best to aid in the search.

A theory advanced by the police is that there may have been a man in the case unknown to her friends.

GOES AFTER TICKETS.

From the moment that Miss Ilg left her home, 14 Hartford street, to go to the Columbia theater for tickets at 7:30 Monday night, she has disappeared as though the earth had opened and swallowed her. She never reached the theater.

It was learned today that she has not been employed since leaving the office of the Standard Soap Company, two years ago. If she deserted her home through design it is evident that she must have had friends on the outside of whom her family are not cognizant, as they declare that all of her close acquaintances of both sexes have been communicated with and are aiding in the search.

At the time of her leaving Miss Ilg wore a blue tailor made suit with a blue hat and high felt shoes. She is five feet five inches tall, weighs 125 pounds, has brown eyes and hair and wore a turquoise ring with her initials, M. G. I., engraved on it.

Detectives Webb and Cashel are the investigating officers.

Word was received late today by the detectives which lead them to the belief that Miss Ilg may be in Santa Rosa.

MISS MAY ILG, who disappeared, leaving no clew.

Mrs. Rapken averred that strong drink was the cause of their marital difficulties. The property rights were settled out of court.

REED CONFIRMS HIS RESIGNATION

Governor Johnson's Executive Secretary to Go Back to University.

SACRAMENTO, July 19.—Confirming the report that he has tendered his resignation as executive secretary to Governor Johnson, Thomas H. Reed said today:

"I have requested Governor Johnson to accept my resignation as executive secretary to take effect August 1. My reason for so doing is simply that my former work at the university, to which I return, is the professional career to which I have long intended to devote my life.

"My leave of absence from the university expired on the first of this month, and after a good deal of reflection I determined to go back to it, as showing a greater future for a life work.

"I have greatly enjoyed my experience in Sacramento, especially the opportunity of association with Governor Johnson, and assisting in a slight degree in the great work which he has been doing. I shall continue to teach the principles of progress in government as I have always done."

NEAR-JOURNALIST LOSES HIS JOB

Youth Who Invented "80-Year-Old Co-Ed" Story Gets Blue Envelope.

BERKELEY, July 19. — David F. Monsch, novice at the newspaper game, and Mrs. Amelia Woodward Truesdell, author of "The Soul's Rubaiyat" and other well known poems, are both feeling badly following the publication of a story written by the former which appeared in the Daily News, the official organ of the summer school of the University of California.

Monsch, who is taking a course in journalism in the University, had to write a "freak" story, connected in some way with the ages of the members of his class, and chose Mrs. Truesdell as his subject. To make it a good story Monsch made it one of "the eighty-year-old co-ed," which proved to be a serious shock to Mrs. Truesdell, who is far from the age mentioned. As a result of the appearance of the story in print Mrs. Truesdel is prostrated and Monsch has lost his position as a contributor of the Daily News, and both are feeling rather at outs with one another, which is not altogether pleasant, as they both live in the same house, 2586 Bancroft way.

LOCAL MERCHANTS BENEFIT BY RATES

Tariff to Points on Peninsula From This City Are Lowered.

Oakland's increasing importance as a shipping point has been again recognized in the following announcement made by the Southern Pacific through its local officials:

"Recognizing the growing commercial interests in Oakland the Southern Pacific Company are arranging to establish the same rates on merchandise from Oakland to Redwood City and points south as are now in effect from San Francisco."

This announcement is the outcome of a fight waged on behalf of Oakland concerns who up to the present time have been paying double the rates paid by San Francisco for freight to the points in question. F. J. Early, chairman of the Traffic Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce, took the matter up with the Southern Pacific officials, with the desired results.

The difference in tariffs was first called to the attention of the Chamber of Commerce about two months ago, when one of the city's leading firms complained at having to pay much higher rates than the San Francisco concerns. Early at once took the matter up with G. W. Luce, acting for the Southern Pacific, and the change in tariff made public, and to go into effect on August 1, is the result.

EXTRADITION CASE PUZZLES JOHNSON

Governor to Decide on Fate of Accused Banker Tomorrow.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—The extradition of Lewis J. Wilde, the San Diego banker, to Portland to answer a charge of embezzling $90,000 from the Oregon Trust and Savings bank, is in the hands of Governor Hiram Johnson, who promised, when the hearing was closed today, to announce his decision tomorrow.

There were so many aspects to the case, the Governor said, that he was in doubt as to how to act. So far as the indictment found in Portland was concerned, he thought the evidence simply showed a dishonest transaction that bore no relation to the bank. On the other side, he said he had always held the view that a Governor could not act as a court of review and question the evidence of the good faith of officials of another state.

The prosecutors said it remained for the jury to determine the question of Wilde's intent and stated their belief that a governor had no right to examine evidence, but only to look into the legality of the papers transmitted.

VALLEJO, July 19. — Admissions of graft in the pay office of the receiving ship Independence were made today by Chief Yeoman Henry Heilpin, a witness for the prosecution in the trial at Mare Island of Paymaster Arthur M. Heilpin testified that clothing and small stores, amounting approximately to $100 a quarter, were drawn by Pippin and not entered upon the books.

Barry, the magazine writer who was recently expelled from membership in the Players Club for branding members of the theatrical profession as mental delinquents and "bluffers" of feeling, yesterday applied to Supreme Court Justice Geigerich for a writ of mandamus to compel the club to reinstate him.

MOYER FAVORS RECALL OF JUDGES

W. F. of M. President Advocates Political Activity by Unions.

BUTTE, Mont., July 19. — President Charles Moyer's annual report to the Western Federation of Miners, read today, was a comparative review of the state of the metal mining locals throughout the West. He also touched and made recommendations upon issues now agitating the convention.

President Moyer urged participating in politics as a body; favored the recall of judges, and, citing the Supreme Court decisions in the Tobacco and Standard Oil cases, declared that it is only a question of time until the courts bring labor unions under the Sherman anti-trust act and that the labor movement's legal status than would hang on judges' opinions whether they are "reasonable or not." He thought the recall would enable labor to weed from the bench jurists known to be opposed to the union movement.

FAVORS BUYING STOCK.

President Moyer recommended consideration of a plan to raise a gigantic fund and enter the operating field. He declared that if the Federation could devote to the intelligent purchase of stock of corporations by whom the miners are employed, sums equal to those now devoted to strike funds, the local soon would own a large enough percentage of these corporations to go into the courts and protect their rights.

Because of the expense of annual sessions, Moyer recommends that the conventions be made bienial.

THE McNAMARA CASE.

The so-called McNamara dynamiting case was taken up as a special order of business. A letter from President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor recommending the support of the miners for the accused labor leaders, was read to the convention. The letter suggested a per capita assessment of 25 cents per member.

Edward Crough of Los Angeles was introduced by President Moyer as a member of the committee of five which investigated the Times explosion in behalf of organized labor. Mr. Crough made a report of the finding of that committee, giving it as his opinion that the explosion was not caused by dynamite but by gas.

He claimed that the gas could not be ignited by dynamite. The speaker expressed his conviction that the McNamara brothers were innocent and that the convention should go on record as extending to them their support, financial and otherwise.

WOMAN WHO SHOT SON IS A MANIAC

Mrs. Woodsum Committed to Asylum by the Lunacy Commission.

Louise E. Woodsum of 1130 Parker street, Berkeley, who attempted to kill Horace Woodsum, her son, and a fuel merchant of the University city, yesterday morning, by shooting him with a revolver and inflicting a superficial wound in the fleshy part of the right hip, was committed this morning by Superior Judge E. P. McDaniel of Yuba county to the asylum at Stockton as a chronic maniac. Mrs. Woodsum is 74 years of age and although remarkably well preserved physically for a woman of her advanced years, the testimony before the lunacy commission showed that during the last thirty years much of her time has been spent in public asylums.

Mrs. Woodsum was committed to Napa from San Francisco in 1881, and after remaining there for about two years was discharged. She went back to her old home in the State of Maine and while living with a daughter in Portland she tried in 1884, according to the testimony, to murder the daughter and then drown herself. She was committed to a public institution in Augusta, Me., where she remained for a number of years. Securing her liberty again she returned to Berkeley and has lived there ever since. Twice during the last two years Mrs. Woodsum has been in the Superior Court on insanity charges, but it was not until her attempted to shoot her son yesterday morning that she was thought to be too dangerous to be at large.

Woodsum appeared in court, although he was suffering acutely from the wound in his thigh. He testified that for years his mother has manifested a most extreme and unnatural hatred for him, and when the old lady was asked about that she freely admitted that she despised her son and feared him, although the testimony showed that Woodsum had always been kind and considerate towards his mother. The old lady has labored for some time under the delusion that Woodsum was trying to kill her, and it was while she was thus wrought up that she tried to murder him.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—Dr. Nelson S. Giberson, Mrs. Carlo Bilotti, and the latter's husband appeared in Police Judge Deasy's court today charged with murder, for alleged complicity in the death of Miss Dora Bettinelli, a fifteen-year-old girl, who passed away yesterday as the result of an allege criminal operation. She originally gave her name as Anita Laplaca, and is the daughter of a Petaluma rancher. The preliminary examination of the trio was set for next Saturday morning.

HEART FAILURE CAUSE.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—The autopsy in the case of Miss Dora Bettinelli, who died yesterday, showed that death was due to heart failure. An examination showed that an attempt had been made to perform a criminal operation, but this was not the cause of death. Three persons are charged with murder in connection with the young woman's demise.

HOME LIFE IS REVEALED

Photographs Reveals Some Wonderful Things About Oakland Home Builder

The camera has accomplished some wonderful things, but the possibilities of this almost human mechanical devise is limited.

When proper subjects are provided the average person can produce some remarkable results, but the subject matter must be the best.

The great competitive photographic plan outlined by THE TRIBUNE some days ago, wherein the builders and owners of handsome bungalows were to be rewarded for their slight work in sending in the best photo obtainable of these clever little beauty spots, has filled the office with inquiries, and photos are being forwarded.

This competition will be published in a few days and the outside world will marvel at the attractiveness of Greater Oakland. The weather is ideal for photos, and Sundays have been turned into photographic house parties. What lady would not be proud of having the photo of her cozy little home sent abroad in THE TRIBUNE?

SAGE TEA WILL DARKEN THE HAIR

Restore Faded and Gray Hair to Natural Color; Dandruff Quickly Removed.

There is nothing new about the idea of using sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our great-grandmothers kept their locks soft, dark and glossy by using a "sage tea." Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull, faded or streaked appearance they made a brew of sage leaves and applied it to their hair, with wonderfully beneficial effect.

Nowadays we don't have to resort to old-time, tiresome methods of gathering the herbs and making the tea. This is done by skillful chemists better than we could do it ourselves, and all we have to do is to call for the ready-made product, Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, containing sage in the proper strength, with the addition of sulphur, another old-time scalp remedy.

The manufacturers of this remedy authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by the Owl Drug Co., 13th and Broadway, 19th and Washington and 16th and San Pablo.

WOMEN IN THE NEWS

MOTHER-IN-LAW'S STAY LIMITED BY JUDGE

Court Declares Disturber of Boston Household Must Go Home.

NEW YORK, July 19.—Magistrate McGuire, in the Flatbush court, fixed ten days as the limit for visits of mothers-in-law. The case in point was that in which young Mrs. May Coyle had summoned her mother-in-law, also Mrs. Coyle, a resident of Boston, to court on a charge of disturbing her domestic peace and happiness.

The court said: "Ten days is long enough for any mother-in-law to hold possession. It should be the limit for all mothers-in-law. While mothers-in-law are more or less of a necessary institution, it is possible for them to become an evil through the failure to use discretion. Mothers-in-law are constitutionally bossy. It seems to be their exquisite function to domineer and tread upon the feelings of their daughters-in-law."

Mrs. Coyle promised to take the first train for Boston.

Search for Heiress

NEW YORK, July 19.—The Russian secret police are scouring America in search of Countess Obrien de Lacy, wife of a Russian nobleman who was sentenced to a Siberian prison for life at the conclusion of the most remarkable trial in the history of the Russian empire.

The wife of the convicted prisoner has fallen heir to $10,000,000 left by her aunt, Mme. de Lazari, who died recently in Paris and who for some unaccountable reason failed to change her will subsequent to the horrifying revelations of the De Lacy trial. The convicted count, who planned wholesale murders for a fortune, paltry by comparison with the great wealth of Mme. de Lazari, is sole heir of his wife under the Russian law, and in case of her death will have the distinction of being the richest prisoner in the world.

The news that Mme. de Lazari bequeathed her entire great fortune to her niece has caused a great sensation and has stirred the Russian authorities to immediate action in the case of the strange disappearance of Countess de Lacy. Search for her throughout Europe has been fruitless and now the activities of the Russian secret police have been transferred to America. Dr. Pantchenko, fellow conspirator of De Lacy, confessed that he had brought about the death of Count Vassil Boturlin, brother of the countess, by inoculating him with cholera bacteria.

Society War Begins

NEWPORT, R. I., July 19.—At one end of the piazza at Bailey's Beach Mrs. Ogden Mills sat yesterday surrounded by a group of her closest friends. At the other end sat Mrs. John R. Drexel, similarly attended. Mrs. Mills and Mrs. Drexel are rivals for the highest social position in America—the leadership of the New York-Newport set. Each aspires to a position which was indisputably held by the late Mrs. Astor, queen of American society. Their sitting apart today, each with her followers, meant the opening skirmish of a battle for supremacy. The place left vacant by the death of Mrs. Astor has never been filled permanently. It is admitted now that it belongs to Mrs. Mills or Mrs. Drexel.

Finds Wife in Jail

STOCKTON, July 19.—After traveling 40,000 miles in search of his wife, J. E. Abercrombie, a wagon manufacturer of Marietta, Georgia, found the end of the trail in the city jail, where his wife is awaiting trial for eloping with another woman's husband.

"What, you here?" she said, staring at him through the cell grating.

"You bet your life I'm here," rejoined her husband, enjoying the situation immensely.

"I came here," he continued, "to give you a little surprise. You surprised me once, you know, and I have been yearning all these months to return the favor. Say, by the way, how do you like your new home?"

"I've had better," was the dry reply of the prisoner.

Abercrombie then went over to call at the Detention Home, where his little 5-year-old daughter is kept.

The husband is very anxious to secure custody of his child. He has instituted divorce proceedings.

"Blaylock stole my wife," he explained, "when we were living at Modesto. Mrs. Abercrombie went back to Georgia to visit her parents. While there she met Blaylock, and when she came home she was followed by him. I innocently allowed him to board at my home and did not realize how I had been duped until after they left.

"I went back to Georgia and found Blaylock's wife and child. I told Mrs. Blaylock the circumstances and she is very anxious to see her husband imprisoned. She may come to California if the case is tried here."

Outwit Papa

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., July 19.—A successful replevin suit to recover the marriage license added novelty to the ceremony which united Ralph A. Johnson, a teacher of Nappanee, Ind., and Miss Pauline Virginia McRae, a teacher of Mayfield, Ky., who were married after an acquaintance of a month. They secured the license yesterday, but before they could use it the bride's father, by wire, forbade the ceremony. They regained possession of the license in a replevin suit and were married.

Won't Stay Home

BAKERSFIELD, July 19.—Despite the fact that he is able, so he says, to "support his wife in luxury," Daniel B. Baker, a dentist, says that his wife, Matilda, will not stay at home and that she does not conduct herself as he thinks he has a right to expect.

Baker filed suit for a divorce. It is set forth in the complaint that the pair frequently had quarrels, which invariably ended so that he was forced to flee from home and business.

The couple were married in San Jose in 1905. It is averred that she prefers the companionship of other men to that of her husband.

Primrose Seeks Divorce

PORTLAND, July 19.—George W. Primrose, veteran minstrel, filed suit for divorce from Esther Primrose in Oregon City, alleging desertion. The Primroses were married in Mount Vernon, N. Y., in April, 1895. They have no children. The husband asks that Primrose Acres, his fruit ranch near Portland, be awarded to him. Primrose's lawyers say he built his wife a country home in Oregon, but she refused to move West, preferring to remain in Mount Vernon.

FEMININE FINERY MAY ADORN MANNISH FORMS

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—Let the ladies wear harem skirts or trousers, or stiff collars or anything they want to. The designers of men's clothing in America, assembled here last week, say that men are getting back at them by adopting all the women's frippery as their own and Dan Coughlin, whom every tailor and designer in the country knows as the finest formed man alive, says that before long men will look more like our modern hipless ladies than anything else.

Mr. Coughlin has the distinction of having worn more clothes than any having worn more clothes than any he has changed his attire as many as twenty times a day, and has never worn the same suit twice. Mr. Coughlin says:

"Every year men's clothes are imitating more and more those of women. I do not hesitate to predict that in a very few years men's attire will be as feminine as women's attire will be masculine. Men are becoming more fond of gay colors, extravagant cuts, giddy trimmings—they are getting to like buckles, belts, form-fitting lines, 'flare skirts'—they are becoming more butterflylike than women, and it will not be long before men will be having hipless trousers, princess overcoats, hobble pants, gored jackets, silk groves, laces and ribbons—all the finery heretofore sacred to womankind."

SOME THINGS WOMEN ARE DOING

WASHINGTON.—While Charles Mittfield was serving her with a pound of sugar, Mrs. Margaret Laffey pushed a six-shooter under his chin and told him to tip the cash till into her pocket. He obliged and she departed with $106.10, the day's receipts of the Park road grocery store.

Mittfield "came too" and caught Mrs. Laffey, and the police took her after getting several long nail snags in their faces.

This morning her son "Timmie," a diminutive youth of 16, told the police his mother was "queer" and the heat and worry had unsettled her mind again. The police are trying to connect her with the robbery of the Sanitary grocery store three weeks ago.

PITTSBURG.—Almer V. Sturtevant of Boston sued W. B. Sterling, a prominent and wealthy business man of Erie, Penn., for $25,000 damages on the charge of having alienated the affections of Mrs. Sturtevant, an actress, known on the stage as Josephine Joy. Mr. Sturtevant alleges that while his wife was in Erie the defendant met her and showed her much attention, such as sending her flowers, introducing himself to her at the stage door and taking her to supper.

* * *

CINCINNATI.—R. W. Luebke, aged 45, committed suicide by shooting himself and left a note in which he said there was too much boss from his mother-in-law about his home. He added that his wife always sided with her mother. He directed that his body be cremated and added that he had left enough insurance to care for his widow until she married again, but he did not want her to spend any of the money on his mother-in-law.

A woman in Pennsylvania got two licenses simultaneously — one to get married and one to teach. This was a wise provision, as in case one failed there was the other to fall back on.—Baltimore American.

Woman Pastor Blames Women

FORT WORTH, Tex.—Elopements of lovers under the legal age, 21 for the young man and 18 for the girl, will be effectually checked in Texas by the new law adopted by the late Legislature and now effective.

Under this law no person under the legal age can obtain a marriage license without the written consent of the minor's parents, and the paper must be acknowledged before a notary public like a deed. If the minor has no parents, a County Judge's consent to the union is necessary. If the clerk doubts that either the prospective bride or bridegroom has attained the legal age he is authorized to require the affidavit of some other than the contracting parties. County Clerk Beavers has interpreted the law to mean that the written consent of both parents, properly executed, must be filed, and that the consent of the father or the mother singly is not sufficient.

The old law authorized the county clerk to require the bridegroom or other person applying for a marriage license to make affidavit to the ages of the parties, in case of doubt, but this law was frequently and successfully evaded.

A common method of evasion was for the young man, if under age, to put a slip of paper bearing the number 21 in his shoe, and for the girl to put in her shoe a slip of paper with the number 18, and then the man would cheerfully make affidavit that he was "over 21," and with equal sincerity the girl would make affidavit that she was "over 18."

In a few instances indictments have been returned against bridegrooms for false swearing, but uniformly the fathers-in-law, after a few weeks, have decided to make the best of it, and have refused to testify against their unwelcome sons-in-law.

Another important law which has become effective this month provides for the suspension of sentence in the case of first convictions on felony charges.

The man who has been convicted for a felony for the first time, by making application before the jury retires, may obtain suspension of his sentence if the jury fixes the penalty at no more than five years, at the option of the District Judge. It is provided that application for a suspension of sentence forfeits the right of appeal, if a conviction results, and if the probationer is convicted of a second felony the first sentence shall be imposed with the second sentence and the two shall be cumulative.

SKIRTS KEEP HER AFLOAT

NEW YORK.—Pasengers on the fast Sandy Hook, inbound from Atlantic Highlands, saw a large black object floating in the water off the Bay Ridge shore. It was Mrs. Eva Engelson, 33 years old, of the scow Margaret M. The lifeboat was lowered and Mrs. Engelson was rescued. As she was taken over the side of the Sandy Hook the passengers cheered loudly. A doctor on board worked on Mrs. Engelson, with the aid of the stewardess, and soon got the water out if her. Dr. Ross of the New York Hospital, met at the West Forty-second street pier and carried her to Bellevue Hospital, where she is now, weak but uninjured.

She had been in the water about three-quarters of an hour when the Sandy Hook passengers saw her. The decks of the Margaret M. were slippery and Mrs. Engelson went over the stern while her husband was up on the bow of the craft, which was being towed from St. George, Staten Island, to Cliff Haven. He did not hear the yells of Mrs. Engelson. She could not swim a stroke, but her skirts ballooned and she floated rather easily. Two or three steamers passed before she was picked up, but she evidently escaped attention.

MERMAID FOUND AT LAST

NEW ORLEANS.—That mermaids inhabit the Gulf of Mexico is the opinion of Tulane University scientists and authorities of the Louisiana Historical Society, after an examination of a skeleton turned over to the society today by Captain C. A. Thompson, United States government lighthouse keeper in Pass-a-l'Outhre, near the mouth of the Mississippi river.

The skeleton includes the windpipe and spinal column, both of the same structure and in the same relative position as might be found in a human. The bones of the breast and of the pelvis are similar to those of a woman. There is no leg formation, the lower extremity having been apparently provided with a tail. A small hinge bone became detached, and bone experts say this once suspended a tail. The trunk is five inches long and the head is of a graceful outline.

Captain Thompson, who found the woman-fish lifeless on a small island in the gulf off the river's mouth, boiled the skeleton to separate the flesh from the bones. In company with Captain William A. Meyers of New Orleans, master of the packet El Rito, he came to the city this afternoon with his curious discovery.

WOUNDED MAN TOSSED INTO ESTUARY

William H. Wendroth Saves His Life by Swimming Hard.

Shot in Neck by Friend of Night, Who Heaves Him Into Water.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—As the culmination of a night spent in treading the highways and byways of the tenderloin, William H. Wendroth, a printer, employed by a local printing company, was shot by a boon companion and thrown into the estuary at 4 o'clock this morning. That he is alive to tell the tale and that he did not sink in the muddy water is due to the fact that he has always been a strong swimmer and succeeded in making his way to a landing and seeking medical treatment.

Wendroth told Detectives Pearl and Bailey, who are endeavoring to find his assailant, that he had met a friend known at Fred at Sansome and Pacific streets at 5 p. m., and at midnight, with another man, with whom he had spent the evening, he walked along Kearny street, intending to take a car at Market street for his home, 1608 Scott street.

MIND IS HAZY.

He remembers little of his subsequent movements up to the time his companion drew a revolver, shot him in the neck and pushed him overboard. After swimming to safety he was found by Patrolman H. C. Jagger, who took him to the Central emergency hospital.

Dr. Jackson treated him for submersion and dressed the wound in his neck, which is not serious. The injured man believes that he was drugged on the coast, but as his money and valuables were still in his pockets the robbery theory palls. It is believed the two men had some words and in the quarrel Wendroth was shot.

DOUBLE TRACKING IS TALKED OVER

Harriman Chiefs Prepare for Travel During the Big Fair.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—The double tracking of the Harriman lines from Chicago to San Francisco was the subject of a conference held in the Flood building yesterday morning between the vice-presidents and general managers of the Harriman system.

The conference, which brought together high officials of the Harriman system from all over the United States, adjourned at noon to permit the officials to inspect the new electric lines in operation in Oakland and Alameda as a part of the ferry service.

The work of the double tracking was planned by Julius Kruttschnitt and reports of progress made yesterday showed the work well under way.

It is planned to have the Harriman lines to the coast double tracked before the opening of the Panama-Pacific Exposition, as the railroads expect an unprecedented travel to California in 1915.

The officials yesterday continued the discussion of standardization methods in railroading. It is their object to plan standard methods of meeting any situation or condition that may arise in railroading and it is expected great results will follow yesterday's exchange of ideas.

FIGHT OVER RIGHT OF WAY RESULTS FATALLY

RICHMOND, Va., July 19.—While returning to the city in an automobile from Chesterfield county last night Mrs. H. C. Beattie Jr. was shot and killed by an unidentified white man, who escaped. The killing occured five miles from Richmond. The man disputed the possession of the road and finally raised his gun and fired.

Mr. Beattie jumped from the car and grappled with the slayer, who gave him a smashing blow over the face with his gun, leaving an ugly wound.

MISS MURIEL STEELE TO WED POPULAR PAIR TELL BETROTHAL

MISS MURIEL STEELE, whose engagement has been announced to J. Wesley Gallagher. —Vaughn & Fraser, Photo.

Daughter of Pioneer Family Will Be Bride of Steel Corporation Representative

MRS. E. L. G. STEELE announced today the engagement of her daughter, Muriel, to J. Wesley Gallagher of Johnstown, Pennsylvania, and Shanghai, China.

The engagement just announced is one of the most notable of the year, the Steeles being among California's pioneer families, and their home for many years one of the most representative on the coast.

The late E. L. G. Steele was one of the most successful business men on the coast, a very distinguished man in many ways. He was not only the successful business man, but he was an exceedingly handsome man—cultured, clever, most generous, and with many of the attributes which make a man much loved by his friends. He was one of the most popular clubmen around the bay, and one of the pioneer members of the Bohemian Club. For years its members were his guests each summer, on the picturesque ranch on the American river, in the foothills of the Sierras. He was a scholar, a man of wide learning, and with a personal magnetism that won and held friends, and that leaves memories in their hearts that are never forgotten.

The Steeles have always been the center of a large social circle, and Mrs. Steele has always made her home represent the very best there was in the ideals of true hospitality, so that the engagement of her daughter Muriel will arouse the greatest interest in leading social circles in the state.

Miss Muriel Steele has long been regarded as one of the most beautiful girls on the coast—of a pure blonde type with an exquisite Greek profile. She has been most carefully brought up, and very carefully educated, and she has, besides, the wide intellectuality which many months of travel abroad may bring. The fates gave Miss Steele a great many more gifts than beauty itself.

Miss Steele is a much loved girl, because of her affectionate disposition, of her loyal friendships, and of those finer ideals which dignify life. She is so truly loved by the friends who know her best, that a certain regret must be mingled with their good wishes for her happiness, for Miss Steele's future home is to be far from California.

J. Wesley Gallagher is the chief representative of the United States Steel Corporation in China, with a business center in Shanghai. He was for six years the representative of the steel trust in London, England, going from London to a wider field in the Orient. He is one of the most successful Americans now in the Oriental field, and one who has already carved out an immensely successful business career, one whose fine future is already assured. One hears that he is a very distinguished man, a cultured gentleman, of exceedingly good standing in American, English and Oriental business and social circles.

Mr. Gallagher was on this coast two years ago, and was a guest of the Thomas Williams, in their country home, "Fortune Letter Camp," on the McCloud river. Miss Steele is a sister of Mrs. Thomas Williams (Beatrice Steele), one of the most beautiful and most attractive of the younger matrons across the bay.

The announcement of the engagement of Miss Steele and Gallagher comes as a great surprise to the many friends of the bride-elect, but it is not a recent engagement, having existed now for two years. Through Eastern cousins of her father, Miss Steele met Mr. Gallagher abroad, and the acquaintance begun in London was continued abroad, followed later by the engagement of the young people.

Mr. Gallagher has already left Shanghai for California, and is coming to America by way of Siberia and Europe. He will arrive in California in the very early autumn, and the wedding date has been set for September.

Mr. Gallagher will give his bride an extended wedding trip in the Orient, and he is planning an ideal home in Shanghai, China.

Many good wishes will immediately find their way to this charming bride-elect, from the many friends of the Steele family all over the coast, and the marriage of Miss Steele and Gallagher in September will represent one of the most important social dates of the early autumn.

CROWDS JAM SAN DIEGO'S STREETS

Thousands Kneel When Festival of Ground-Breaking Is Begun.

President Taft Presses Button That Unfurls Flags to Breeze.

SAN DIEGO, July 19.—Thousands of people knelt in reverence before the open-air altar erected in Balboa Park on the site of the Panama-California exposition at the Pontifical military field mass was conducted this morning by the Rt. Rev. Thos. J. Conaty, bishop of the diocese of Los Angeles and Monterey.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock the site of the exposition was jammed by people who crowded there to witness the ground-breaking for the new exposition. The first spadeful of earth, according to program, was turned by President Taft's representative, John J. Barrett, director-general of the Pan-American union. He was followed by officials of the exposition company and city officials.

RELIGIOUS PROCESSION.

The religious procession to the altar in the park began from St. Joseph's church this morning. A mounted guard of honor led the procession, and soldiers and sailors were grouped around the altar when the service began.

The music was rendered by a massed band of seventy-four pieces. Bishop Conaty was assisted by the very Rev. Theo. Arentz, celebrant, and Franciscan priests. The service, which ended about noon, commemorated the founding of the California missions by the Franciscan fathers.

Aside from the turning of earth this afternoon the feature of the exercises was the unfurling of the President's flag, the American flag and the flags of the South American republics upon the pressing of a button in Washington. The button was pressed by President Taft, the wire being in the east room of the White House and ending at the site of the Panama-California exposition. A mighty roar went up as the flags whipped out in the fresh breeze from the ocean.

The balance of the day will be devoted to numbers of social functions, official and otherwise, and to the welcoming of the delegations arriving on every steamer and train. The streets are jammed and the question of accommodations is becoming serious. The committee in charge insists that it has rooms for all who desire them, and so far no one has complained to the committee of lack of accommodations.

SECOND-STORY BURGLAR WORKS

Residence of N. Povelsen Entered and $165 in Money and Gems Taken.

A burglar climbed on to the porch of the residence of N. Povelsen of 388 Fairmount avenue and broke into the second story of the house, stealing money and jewelry valued at $165. The burglary was committed about 10 o'clock last night in the absence of the family, and the place was ransacked, everything of value of a portable nature in the upstairs portion of the house being taken. Two watches, a gold chain, a bracelet and $55 in coin were taken.

John Nicolini of 410 Telegraph avenue reported to the police this morning that his place was broken into and women's garments, valued at $60, taken.

GOV. WILSON PREDICTS DEMOCRATIC SUCCESS

ASBURY PARK, N. J., July 19.—Six hundred Democrats at a banquet at Avon last night heard Governor Woodrow Wilson predict Democratic success in 1912. It was idle to talk of the formation of a third party, said the governor. People were asking which of the old parties had seen the modern light and were turning to the teachings of Thomas Jefferson, and everywhere every government, the speaker declared, was being subjected to a test as to whether it lived up to the real Jeffersonian test.

ORGANIZED LABOR SEEKS REMOVAL OF M'CLYMONDS

Want Education Board to Appoint School Superintendent Who Is Practical Builder

Superintendent of Schools J. W. McClymonds, who for the last 23 years has held the office in this city as well as that of secretary to the Board of Education, is the object of an attack on the part of the Central Labor Council, which, through its secretary, A. W. Sefton, has drawn up a petition to the school board asking them to appoint a superintendent who is familiar with the construction of buildings, basing their claim on the recent bond issue that provides for the erection of a large number of new school buildings at an expenditure of nearly $2,000,000.

"The petition is being circulated today, and although it does not demand in so many words the removal of McClymonds, it implies that the present secretary is incompetent, that he is connected with contracting firms and also has interests in real estate which the city might purchase with funds resulting from the bond issue.

When seen today, Superintendent McClymonds declined to take seriously the action of the labor people, stating that if the petition should be presented to the board, it would then be time for him to take cognizance of the veiled charges.

McCLYMONDS TALKS.

"So far as my competency is concerned," he said, "my work speaks for itself, and I am too well known in Oakland as a result of my long service to take any such charge seriously. My record is an open book.

"If I were connected in any way with construction firms doing business with the Board, I certainly should not occupy this position and the same holds good in regard to my being interested in real estate, that I might use influence to dispose of it to the city. So far as the charges affect me, I will say that none of them have the slightest foundation nor could any such assertions be proven.

"I have not the slightest idea where the movement could have originated. So far as the board is concerned, I do not think that any of them are unfriendly to me, and I have been elected as its secretary for another term."

THE PETITION.

To the Honorable Board of Education of the City of Oakland, Alameda County, California:

Whereas, There is to be spent in the City of Oakland, Alameda County, California, some, $2,000,000 in the purchase of sites and in erection and repair of public school edifices during the term of the present Board of Education of the City of Oakland; and

Whereas, Section 198 of "The Charter of the City of Oakland" provides for approval by the president and secretary of the Board of Education of all plans for new construction or repair of school buildings; and

Whereas, Competent judgment of construction is necessary to the safety of the buildings, and the efficient and economic disbursement of the people's money; and

Whereas, The secretaryship is an appointive office; therefore

We, the undersigned citizens and taxpayers of the City of Oakland, Alameda County, California, hereby petition and demand that the secretary of our Board of Education be a practical building mechanic, not interested in the sale of any real estate and unallied with any firm of contractors now or during the term of office of the present board doing business in this city, county or state;

We, severally and individually, declare our purpose as above set forth to be sincere, and without political prejudice or bias, and affirm its aim to be the carrying out of the state law and local regulation, to the end of truly efficient public service."

PRISONER BOASTS UNIQUE RECORD

Charles Crane, Arrested Many Times, Has Only Served Twenty Days.

Arrested on various charges from grand larceny to minor offenses in almost every large city in the United States, but never convicted of any crime, Charles Crane, who was captured by Deputy District Attorney Phil Carey a week ago, boasts perhaps the strangest record of any man in the United States. Known by detectives and criminal bureaus from one end of America to the other, the police authorities have never succeeded in fastening upon him any specific crime, and in his entire career he has served only 20 days in prison.

Crane, who is known as Frank Lane, Frank Jones, John Van Slick and a host of other names, was captured when he attempted to pick the pocket of Stephen E. Booth, 81 years old, of Elmhurst, and charged with grand larceny. After being measured and photographed, he was identified by Harry Caldwell, head of the criminal identification bureau of Oakland, as a man known to every police department in the United States.

His first arrest was as Frank Jones, at Chicago, June 29, 1892. Other arrests were as follows: Frank Jones, alias "the Jonah," Louisville, Ky., May 8, 1898; John Van Slick, Milwaukee, July 10, 1900; Henry Hall, Helena, Mont., October, 1900; James Green, St. Louis, Mo., August 2, 1904; August 4, 1904; John Cliner, New Orleans, December 15, 1906, December 17, 1906; John C. Carpenter, Washington, D. C., December 8, 1907; John Case, Philadelphia, May 12, 1908, and Oakland.

In 1906 he served 20 days in the parish prison at New Orleans. With the exception of a fine or two, that is the only penalty the crook has ever paid, although the police of every city have been seeking him for years.

Crane and a companion robbed Booth of $29 as the aged Elmhurst man was boarding a Western Pacific train. Carey saw the robbery and gave chase, running Crane down.

MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE TO INVESTIGATE PHONE RATES

The directors of the Merchants' Exchange at their regular meeting last night considered the matter of regulation of telephone rates and collections in Oakland. Complaints had been made to the directors of misunderstandings between the local telephone companies and individuals on those matters, and a committee was appointed to look into the matter of city regulation by ordinance of rates, employed in Seattle and other cities of the country, and to report the matter at a later date to the directors. The committee consists of J. C. Downey, chairman; T. Dorgan and E. A. Young.

RAILROAD HEADS ARE SHOWN CITY

E. T. Jeffery and Party Inspect Property of the Western Pacific.

Edward T. Jeffery, head of the Western Pacific and Denver and Rio Grande systems of railroads, accompanied by a party of officials of those roads and guests, has been spending the major part of the day in Oakland looking over the city and inspecting the Western Pacific's property interests here. The party has been traveling about in automobiles, and has been shown the sights by local railroad men.

Following the tour of the city the guests were taken to the Chamber of Commerce, where at 3 o'clock an informal reception was held, attended by the directors of the Chamber, who acted as hosts, Mayor Mott and the commissioners. The Mayor spoke a few words of greeting, and the party was shown the exhibits of the Chamber and given various data. At the request of Jeffery, the reception was informal in the extreme, no set speeches or entertainment being arranged.

The party with Jeffery included Charles H. Schlacks, vice-president of the Western Pacific; C. M. Levey, second vice-president; Joel F. Valle, general counsel of the Denver & Rio Grande; the chief engineer of the Western Pacific and other officials.

PERSIAN REVOLUTION GROWING IN STRENGTH

TEHERAN, Persia, July 19.—The government is showing resolution and zeal in the face of the situation created by the landing on the Caspian coast of the exiled Shah, Mohammed Ali Mirza. A coalition cabinet, composed of Democrats and Moderates, has been formed with Sipahdar, leader of the Nationalists, as premier. The portfolio of war has been entrusted to Samsam Es Sultaneh. The chief of the Bakhtiyaris of Western Persia and a number of the leaders, including Yepo, a famous chief of police of the Bakhtiyaris, have assured the government their support against the deposed Shah.

ALAMEDAN BLAMES MONEY

Wm. Kemp Jr. Declares Wife Fears Loss of Income; Defends Mrs. Isbell

"Told Wife I Did Not Love Her," He Says; "I'm Not Worried About Her"

ALAMEDA, July 19.—With his wife in a sinking condition at a private sanatorium in San Francisco because of his alleged avowal to her that he loved another woman and could not live without her, William H. Kemp Jr. staunchly defends Mrs. Eleanora Isbell, his alleged affinity, and declares that his wife's delirium and illness is caused by brooding over money matters. That money was his wife's god was declared by Kemp today.

"Mrs. Isbell has been wrongfully accused, and is innocent of all wrong-doing," the husband said today. "I left my wife on account of family troubles a month ago. I deeded to her our home at 1808 Walnut street, and told her I would do anything in the world for her if she would sue me for a divorce. I deny that Mrs. Isbell is the cause of my wanting a divorce from my wife. I don't want to blacken my wife's name, but I have good grounds for a divorce.

"I told my wife that I did not love her any more and that I did care for other companionship. She came into my electrical store at 1348 Park street after I had told her that I did not care for her any longer, and told my partner that she would give me a divorce and that all she wanted was for me to be happy.

YEAR OF QUARRELS.

"We have quarreled for a year. I cared for amusements and for theaters and dances and my wife positively refused to go any place with me. The only thing that is troubling her is that she may lose the house and money in the bank which I have given her.

"I left her a month ago for many reasons. Our home has been unhappy because she refused to have children, and because she made money her god. We have been married five years and in all that time have been to the theater only three times. I never went out with Mrs. Isbell until the Fourth of July. We were congenial and were happy in each other's companionship. My trouble with my wife arose before I met Mrs. Isbell. She is entirely innocent, and I only feel sorry for her. I am not worried about my wife's condition."

Mrs. L. H. Hanson, Mrs. Kemp's sister, was in Alameda last night and refused to tell where the wife is. She did not see the husband of her sister, but consulted Judge R. B. Tappan, Mrs. Kemp's attorney.

FEARS PRISON.

Grieving in delirium, Mrs. Kemp cries that she and her husband are to be sent to San Quentin and that she does not want him punished.

"Oh, let him go free. He could not help it. He has been hypnotized and has done no wrong," she cries wildly. That the woman's mind cannot be saved unless there is a reconciliation with her husband was the statement made by physicians today. Members of the wife's family nevertheless have declared that they will not allow her to live with him again.

Mrs. Isbell cited in her divorce complaint instituted against her husband, H. L. Isbell, a traveling salesman, two weeks ago, that he did not want children and considered them too great an expense. This is one of the reasons given by Kemp for his estrangement from his wife.

Garfield avenue, where Mrs. Isbell makes her home, has been characterized as Alfalfa Widows' Row because the spouses of most of the women residents of the block are traveling drummers.

ADMITS HE LOVES HER.

Kemp stated that he had spent last evening with Mrs. Isbell. When asked if he would marry her if he obtains a divorce from his wife and Mrs. Isbell a final decree from her husband, he stated that he was not prepared to say what the future would bring.

He acknowledged that he loves the divorcee who is accused of having broken up his home. That the case is one of infatuation at first sight is averred by Kemp's business partners and neighbors.

Three months ago Mrs. Isbell went to Kemp's electrical store to purchase fixtures for her new home in Garfield avenue. Kemp told today of noticed a scratch on Mrs. Isbell's face when he went to install the fixtures in the house. Inquiring as to the cause he was told that she had fallen, but says she later sobbingly acknowledged that her husband had struck her.

THEY ARE CONGENIAL.

Kemp avows that he and Mrs. Isbell are congenial. Mrs. Kemp was Anna Jaekel and lived in Napa before her marriage. Her family assert that she has deprived herself of everything to pay for their home in Walnut street. Kemp stated today that his wife had refused to eat or sleep since he went to her with the avoval that he loved another woman and could not live without her, and that she would have to get a divorce.

Mrs. Kemp's family live at 163 Tremont street, San Francisco. Only one sister, Mrs. Hanson, is permitted to see her.

NEW WATER SUPPLY IS DISCUSSED BY COUNCIL

Hetch-Hetchy Project Receives Commendation; Urged for Alameda.

BUILDER SAYS MAINS ARE NOT ADEQUATE

City Fathers Act on Issues of Importance to Municipality.

ALAMEDA, July 19.—The discussion of the Hetch-Hetchy water supply for the bay cities was the principal business at the meeting of the city council last night.

Councilman Alfred Morgenstern, who recently attended a meeting of the board of engineers sent to investigate the properties of the water company by the secretary of the interior, reported that a favorable agreement had been reached by the board relative to the source of supply. He stated that the engineers had left for the valley on July 10 to make further investigations and had not yet returned, but the advance reports indicated that a favorable statement would be made to the secretary of the interior.

In conclusion Councilman Morgenstern said: "I hope that the public utilities committee of the city council will be present at the next meeting of these engineers, to do all they can to further the movement, which is of vital importance to the city of Alameda. This council should go on record as favoring the Hetch-Hetchy project as it is a necessity of the future. It behooves the members of the city council to immediately take steps in the matter for the ultimate purpose of pushing this to a successful climax.

"Public sentiment is strongly in favor of the scheme. There is no question but that the majority of the people of this city are in favor of the project."

R. C. Hillen, builder of this city, appeared before the council and stated that he was unable to get water connections for several houses that he had erected on High street north of Santa Clara avenue.

A similar complaint was received from Louis Saroni, who is constructing several homes on Garfield avenue, which with the previous one was referred to the public utilities committee in conjunction with the street committee.

The date of hearing the protests against the installation of electroliers on Haight avenue between Fourth and Ninth streets; Sixth street between Haight and Central and Fifth street between Haight and Central avenue, was postponed until the next regular meeting.

TRANSFER FUNDS.

Moneys in the police and fire pension funds were ordered transferred to the general fund, in accordance with the charter provision that all such moneys must be put in the general fund at the close of the fiscal year. The police fund had $265 to transfer, and the firemen's pension fund contained $1171.

A request from the board of electric light commissioners, that the bond of Secretary A. Goldsworthy of $1600 be continued, was granted.

The bond of Chauncey Pratt, a former employe of the commission, was ordered returned to the commissioners, who will endeavor to obtain a rebate from the bonding company.

The letter of thanks sent by the Fourth of July committee was ordered filed.

The resignation of Sumner Crosby, as a member of the board of education was read and accepted.

The annual report of the chief of the fire department and the semi-annual report of the police chief, was referred to the police and fire committee.

A communication was received from Lewis & Shaw, requesting that the fire limits established south of Encinal avenue, be eliminated as it was retarding the natural growth of the city. His request was referred to police, fire and water committee.

A request from Superintendent of Streets Frodden for a boiler to be used in handling and heating oil for street work at the new distributing point on Blanding avenue and the railroad junction was referred to the street committee with power to act.

OBJECTS TO PLAN FOR KEEPING HOGS

BERKELEY, July 19.—Complaint against the proposed keeping of hogs for experimental purposes by the University of California in Strawberry canyon, above the new college swimming tank, is to be made to the Board of Health by Benjamin Bangs of 2300 Warring street, according to his statement today.

That the drainage from the hog pens will run into the pool when the rainy season begins, is the opinion of Bangs.

Dr. C. M. Haring, assistant professor of veterinary science at the university, in denying that the swimming tank will be injured, says:

"Pens for fifty hogs are to be built in Strawberry canyon above the swimming pool, the animals to be experimented upon with serum and vaccine for the prevention of cholera. The last legislature appropriated $16,000 for the manufacture of serum, in line with the action taken in 33 other states. Last year the disease claimed 20,000 hogs.

"There will be no danger of the drainage running into the pool, however. The university engineers have arranged for it to empty below the pool. There will be no hogs in the pens during the rainy season."

SHOCK OF BAD NEWS HASTENS GIRL'S DEATH

BERKELEY, July 19.—Worrying over the presence of her brother on the wrecked steamer Santa Rosa, without news as to his fate, is believed to have hastened the death of 16-year-old Edith May Carlisle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Carlisle of 2501 Webster street, which took place yesterday.

The girl had long been a sufferer from heart disease, but she did not become seriously ill until the time of the wreck. Before receiving news that her brother William, who had sailed on the steamer, was safe, she became ill from worry and failed steadily.

The Carlisle family came to this city from Canada three years ago.

THROWN FROM CAR.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—Albert Shimyu, a Japanese, residing at 2002 Union street, became engaged in a quarrel with Hugh Braden, a soldier stationed at the Presidio, who threw him off a car on Montgomery avenue early this morning. Shimyu was treated for a lacerated scalp at the Central Emergency Hospital and Braden was arrested and charged with battery.

Mayor Is Promised Support of 300 at Banquet

College City's Future Is Gilded by Speakers in Masonic Temple

BERKELEY, July 19. — Party ties and campaign hostilities were forgotten last evening, when more than 300 citizens gathered at a banquet in Masonic Temple to pledge their support to Mayor J. Stitt Wilson and give him an encouraging start upon his administration.

"The golden age of Berkeley," "the get-together spirit," and "civic progress" were phrases often voiced, and the golden age idea caught on with special tenacity.

Fraternal greetings from other cities were spoken by Frank H. Gould of San Francisco and Halvor Hauch of Alameda, so that Berkeleyans were not the sole well-wishers for a successful municipal future.

The banquet was under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce, Board of Trade, Merchants' Exchange and Manufacturers' Association.

Mayor Wilson responded eloquently to the expressions of interest and promises of co-operation, and assured the other speakers and all the banqueters that he would give as good an account of himself as lay within his power.

CHICANERY OBSOLETE.

Professor P. R. Boone, the toastmaster, in an introductory address, declared that the days of chicanery in politics in Berkeley had passed, and that in those days he would not have believed such a gathering as that of last night to be possible. He said in part:

"We will support the new mayor as long as he carries out the principles which he has enunciated. He conducted a clean campaign and has set a standard of morality.

"This is indeed the golden age of Berkeley. We have recently entered upon a new system of government under one of the best starters in the country, and we should get back of the mayor as citizens, not as politicians, to help him put it into full effect."

Dr. Hubert N. Rowell, exalted ruler of the Berkeley Elks, spoke in part as follows in addressing Mayor Wilson:

NO CARD INDEX.

"I believe that your ideals of government will not comprehend the installation of any card index system to attain the results you desire, but on the contrary, the sincerity of your purpose and your business-like conception of the city's needs will attract men to you who have hitherto stood aloof and permitted rings and fostered monopolies to run the city."

Christian Hoff, commissioner of public health and safety, announced that he would support Mayor Wilson in all things conducive to Berkeley's best interests. He made a strong appeal for better fire and police protection and for an addition of 5½ cents to the tax rate for these improvements.

"We need $20,000 more for the police department," he stated, "for the purchase of lights and other signal apparatus and for fifteen more policemen. On the grounds of expediency we ask for a slight addition to the tax rate, giving you assurance that it will be well expended."

PAYS HIGH TRIBUTE.

Halvor Hauch, vice-president of the Alameda Chamber of Commerce, paid a tribute to Mayor Wilson as a friend of long and close acquaintance. He voiced the good will of Alameda.

Frank H. Gould, the San Francisco attorney, declared that he regarded the banquet as an "extraordinary gathering," the like of which he did not remember ever having attended before.

Referring to another banquet recently in honor of Woodrow Wilson, educator and writer, Gould said:

"The Wilson family appears to be getting numerous in the field of idealism."

Gould then told of the dinner tendered the former university president in San Francisco, which he declared was "gotten up in the offices of the United Railroads." "It threatened to produce discourses upon railroad economics, but which brought forth one of the worst excoriations of public service corporations I ever listened to," he said.

"You in Berkeley have a good man for mayor," said Gould. "I am glad to see you as citizens get behind a man who desires to do things just because they are right. The man who stands strongly enough to say: 'I do this because it is right' is entitled to the respect and support of all citizens."

The speaker reported that when he was aiding in the fight made by San Franciscans for the 1915 fair he told in Washington of the attractions of Berkeley, and declared that he believed many fair visitors would visit this city, with its wonderful view of the hills and Golden Gate, and that the city would become known throughout the country as the Athens of America, as well as the Athens of the Pacific coast.

EARLY IN LIFE.

"The time to lay the foundation for a city is early in its life. You should begin to obtain those public utilities which will enable you to control your own affairs. We have none of these things in San Francisco.

"When it comes to a campaign of reform you can recognize the trail of the great interests. To succeed you must follow the ideals of your mayor and carry on your municipal business in your own way. If properly organized for municipal control you get the most and pay the least. That's the financial and smallest end, however.

"I congratulate Berkeley, for the city appears to have excluded politics, if not politicians. And politicians of the right kind are the best men in the country. The trouble with too many citizens is that they neglect their duty as voters."

G. G. Ocheltree said he believed that the present administration would set a high mark for future municipal executives.

H. A. Sully declared that the fears of a certain hysterical woman of his acquaintance that the Socialists would spend all the taxpayers' money were ungrounded, and that the standard of intelligence in Berkeley was too high for general alarm of this kind.

Judge A. E. Bolton was loudly applauded at the end of a stirring appeal for support of the mayor. He suggested that citizens devote one hour every two days to study of municipal affairs, and that the mayor be given the consideration and support of the people.

Referring to San Francisco conditions, he said:

"A police chief will promise much. But a police chief and police judges might be sent from above and the system could not be corrected until the people got behind the department itself and enforced reforms."

MAYOR J. STITT WILSON of Berkeley (upper), the guest of honor at last night's banquet, and P. R. BOONE, the toastmaster.

John M. Foy told of the political conditions in Berkeley thirty years ago, when the marshal's job at $75 a month was the prize de luxe and when party conventions aroused great interest.

WILSON'S SPEECH.

Mayor Wilson said in part:

"I would certainly be devoid of the ordinary sentiments of our common humanity if the sight of this outpouring of citizens and the generous pledges of support so unanimously expressed did not deeply move me. This presence and your pledges to co-operate with me in everything for the good of our city inspires me with confidence and goads me to the highest possible public service.

"I love my city as I love the task to which I have been called, and if I should make mistakes in judges or minor blunders of administration I am sure that they will be errors of the head and never of the heart. You will bear with me and correct me and permit me to proceed to the great tasks which we have set before us.

"It is said that it has been a discredit to the citizens and a danger to the city that you have placed a Socialist at the head of city affairs."

EXPLAINS PURPOSES.

The mayor then explained the purposes of socialism, and continued:

"In keeping with the general spirit and purpose of socialism I declare as a practical maxim of political procedure this statement, 'what the people socially need the people must socially own.'"

The mayor proceeded to outline some of the immediate needs of the city.

"With all rapidity, accompanied by due caution, we must proceed to establish a most up-to-date and scientific garbage incinerator," he declared, "and I am sure as the council gives you the lead in this matter you will carry the necessary bonds with an overwhelming majority."

Discussing the water question, Mayor Wilson said:

"The purest water that drains from the high Sierras is not too pure for the city of Berkeley. The best distributing system that modern engineering science can provide is none too good for Berkeley, and the most adequate provision for our inevitable growth both for domestic use and fire protection must be made. The people must own their own water supply."

CITY BEAUTIFUL.

Mayor Wilson then spoke of the city beautiful, and said that sentiments of an aesthetic sort should find expression in comprehensive plans of organized effort for the beautification of the city. Speaking of finances, Mayor Wilson pointed out that it was impossible for Berkeley to conduct her affairs as a proud and ambitious city in a village state of mind and with a village tax.

"I shall make no proposition to you to raise the tax rate as specified by the charter," he said, "but I do wish to point out to you that it is for you as citizens to see that it is absolutely impossible to do for this city what ought to be done for it unless we as citizens, not as officials, rally to the demand for a fuller treasury.

"We need more schools. We have inadequate fire protection; we need better police facilities and an adequate sewerage system to tide water is imperative, and all this cannot be obtained without a generous municipal expenditure."

President Benjamin Ide Wheeler, through his secretary, Fuwaum Griffiths, expressed his regrets on acount of being unable to attend the banquet. He will be absent from the city until August 1. The educator expressed his wish for a sucessful administration under Mayor Wilson's guidance.

Seated at the speakers' table were: Toastmaster P. R. Boone, Mayor J. Stitt Wilson, F. H. Gould, G. G. Ocheltree, H. E. Knowles, Christian Hoff, Herbert H. Rowell, Halver Hauch, John A. Wilson, Wells Drury, J. G. Wright, W. K. Porter, E. T. Turner, G. S. Schnieder, E. B. Horton and Charles Green.

FINANCE BOARD SUBMITS REPORT

Conditions of Alameda Park and Playground Fund Told Council.

ALAMEDA, July 19.—The finance committee of the City Council, of which President E. B. Bullock is chairman, submitted a report on the conditions of the park and playground fund to the City Council in regular session last night.

The report shows that the sum of $2770.88 is the total required for all claims on the fund for the year extending from November 1, 1910, to November 1, 1911. Part of this sum has already been expended, and the balance is estimated expenditure. The money available to pay these claims is estimated at the present time as $3098.25. Salaries to November 1, 1911, must also be paid to the amount of $2300, leaving a balance available for other claims of $798.25. With the claims to be met placed at $2770.88, there is a deficit of $1972.63.

The board also has the sum of $1553.35, granted by the budget of 1910 for improvements, which sum has not been expended for the items called for.

The park and playground fund, July, 1910, carried over a balance of $2060.28. July 20 the council transferred from the general fund to the park and playground fund the sum of $1000 to enable them with their balance to pay salaries and claims to November 1, 1910, when they would receive the amount allotted to them in the budget amounting to $15,151, which would be used to pay salaries and claims for the ensuing twelve months or until November 1, 1911.

Miss Johnson is an associate editor of an eastern magazine and has given courses in household economics in a number of leading colleges.

This evening in the Chemistry building Dr. William Conger Morgan of the university faculty will give an illustrated lecture on "Liquid Air." This lecture will be the second in the series being given by Dr. Morgan on popular phases of chemistry, his last lecture having dealt with the "Wizardry of Flame." In his discussion this evening Dr. Morgan will explain the nature of liquid air, its properties and how it is produced. To illustrate these points he will perform as time permits, a number of highly entertaining experiments, such as freezing mercury, boiling liquid air on ice, freezing rubber balls and fruit until they become brittle and freezing cloth by dipping it into liquir air.

The semi-annual meeting of the Pacific Coast Association of Chemistry and Physics teachers will be held on the campus a week from next Saturday, July 29. The meeting will be held in Room 13, South Hall, at 9:30 a. m. G. C. Barton is president of the association and C. C. Danforth is the secretary.

6 Fast Bouts at Wheelmen's This Evening; Oaks Fall Before Senators in First Game

CLEVER YOUNGSTERS WILL MIX AT WHEELMEN'S CLUB

Matchmaker Moffit Has Arranged Fast Bouts for This Evening at Piedmont Pavilion; Petrosky and George Meet

WHEELMEN'S BOXING CARD AT PIEDMONT PAVILION TONIGHT

SIX-ROUND MAIN EVENT.
Sailor Petrosky vs. Kid George.

SPECIAL SIX-ROUND EVENT.
Jimmy Fitton vs. Jerry Murphy.

SPECIAL SIX-ROUND EVENT.
Roscoe Taylor vs. Ray Campbell.

THREE FOUR-ROUND CONTESTS.
Billy Weeks vs. Win Wright.
Kid Rome vs. Muggsy McGraw.
Ben Welsh vs. Manuel Vierra.

All the principals in tonight's card of the Wheelmen's Club at the Piedmont Pavilion are in tip-top shape and anxiously awaiting the sound of the gong sending them to the center of the ring for action. In addition to the three six-round bouts there will be three bouts of four rounds each between the following ambitious youngsters: Billy Weeks and Win Wright, Kid Rome and Muggsy McGraw, Ben Welsh and Manuel Vierra.

Sailor Ed Petrosky, the conqueror of Battling Robinson and Kid George, the head liners of the show, have spent a busy week conditioning themselves for the bout and both report themselves in excellent shape for the gruelling campaign they anticipate this evening.

TO WIN MEANS MUCH.

The sailor lad has the ambition to reach the top of the ladder in the middleweight class and knows that a victory tonight will put him in line for an engagement with the Sullivans, Klaus and possibly Billy Papke.

With a match with one of these promised Petrosky will enter the ring determined to win in the quickest possible time. On the other hand, Kid George, realizing that a victory means as much to him, the Sacramento boy will enter the ring with the same determination to win as has Petrosky.

Both these boys being willing, game and aggressive, the fan should see a highly interesting mixup with the padded mitts.

FITTON AND MURPHY ARE READY.

Preceding the main event, Jimmy Fitton, the East Oakland hurricane, and Jerry Murphy will mix in a six-round go. Both these boys are sore at the promoters and think that they have been overlooked when the magnates have prepared their cards and both will enter the ring primed to show the fans that they too are top liners in the game of hit and get away.

The other six-round affair brings together Roscoe Taylor and Ray Campbell. Both these lads have always given a good account of themselves and the fans need have no fear of this match proving a bloomer.

Tickets for the show are on sale at the following places: Mecca Cafe, Del Monte bar, Thayer's Cafe, McVey's Cafe, Fred Ohe's and the College Inn in San Francisco.

In the absence of Eddie Smith, who is confined at his home with sickness, Toby Irwin wil lact as official referee.

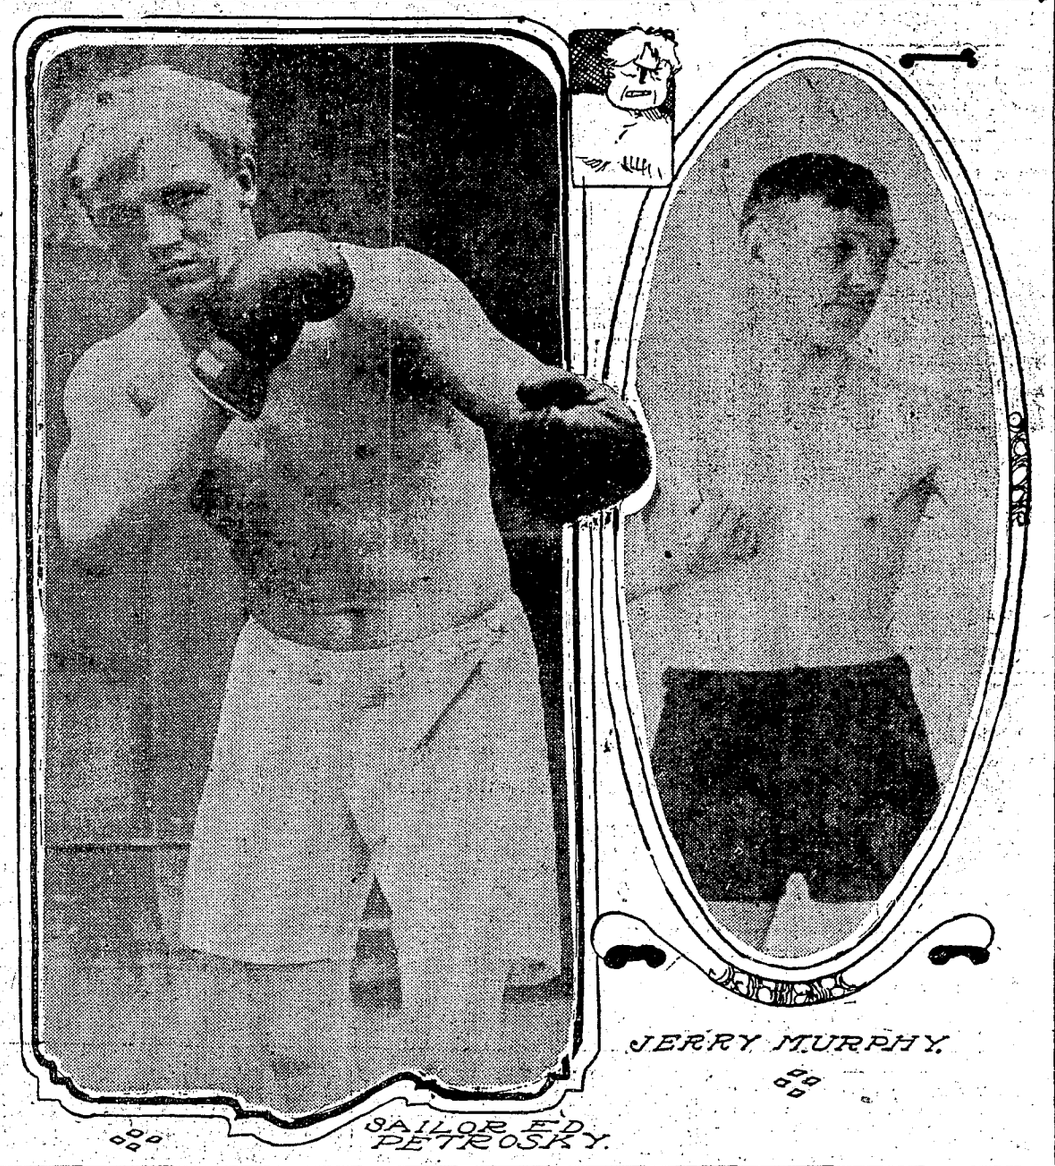
LIGHTWEIGHTS IN A MUDDLE.

CHICAGO, July 19.—Packy McFarland's matches with Matt Wells and Ad Wolgast, yesterday considered practically settled, are fading rapidly today and may vanish into thin air before the week is over.

The Wells bout, supposedly signed, for, and all disagreements out of the way, has been halted by the demands of George McDonald, manager for the Briton, that Charley White referee the go. McDonald also wants a change made in the financial stipulations. Emil Thiry calls McDonald's demand for an eastern referee in Milwaukee preposterous and will not agree to it, and has served notice on the English lightweight that he must consent to fight under the original terms or negotiations with him will be dropped permanently.

A dissension on the money question is in the way of the Wolgast go. Jealousy among Milwaukee promoters is also said to have something to do with the failure to clinch the bout. Wolgast wants 50 per cent of the gross receipts and conceded McFarland 25 per cent. Later he asked for the first $14,000 in the house. Today Frank Mulkern telephoned from Milwaukee that he had the champion's signature on a contract. The contract, however, stated that the stock yards lad was to get only 25 per cent. Packy will not fight for that amount, but if Wolgast will yield and give his 30 per cent the mill may be staged. Just now, however, it is not anything like a sure thing.

Sailor Ed Petrosky, who boxes Kid George, and Jerry Murphy, opponent of Jimmy Fitte at the boxing carnival of the Wheelmen's Athletic Club at Piedmont Pavilion this evening.



OAKS FAIL TO HIT AND LOSE FIRST GAME TO SACRAMENTO

Byram Pitches Swell Ball, While the Jinx Follows the Local Boxman; Homers Help the Senators

Sacramento defeated Oakland in the opening game of the series and this much for the contest. It wasn't a thriller by any means and all the luck of the battle went with the men from Senatorville. It was Herbert Byram, one-time of the grass league at Grass Valley, who hurled for the Sacramento outfit and Mr. Byram was good, very good, for all the hard-hitting Oaks could gather in the hit line was two lone bingles and both of them of the scratch order. True Herbie was afforded big league support that cut off runs and hits, but nevertheless it was his day to shine and beat the Oaks.

For the locals it was Kilroy and luck was against the big fellow and this, coupled with the fact that the Senators found his shoots at the right time gave him a defeat.

SENATORS TALLY FIRST.

Right off the reel Sacramento broke into the run column. Jimmy Shinn opened the seance by walking to first. O'Rourke, who was on the staff of Kilroy all day, poled out to Mitze. Van Buren hit to right and Jimmy went to third. On Danzig's slow poke to Hetling Shinn registered.

Hope sprung in the breasts of the Oaks after their half was over for two they sent over, but luck was with them at that.

After Maggart and Wares had gone out on the first balls pitched to the plate, Hoffman hit to Lerchen. Lerchen went to sleep and waited for the ball to come to him and it being a slow bounder, the rightfield of the Oaks beat it to first base. Zacher then gave Lerchen a chance and he fielded the pellet just opposite to the other one and got a boot. Hoffman got as far as second before the boot on a passed ball and when Thomas dropped the peg to the plate Hoffman got over. While all this was going on Zacher went to third and he scored on a scratch hit to right by Hetling. That ended the run getting of the Oaks, also the hitting.

MORE FOR SENATORS IN SECOND.

A double by Thomas and scratchy singles by Lerchen and Byram gave the Senators another in the second and a homer by Mahoney and another by Danzig gave the Sacramento outfit their other two runs.

All throughout the game things were breaking nicely for Byran and punk for Kilroy. This was noticeable in the fifth inning. With Wolverton at third and Kilroy at second, Lerchen made an almost impossible stop of a drive from Wares' bat and retired the side.

Here's the tale of the first game:

Diamond Dust

Charley Graham's pennant chasers won from the Oaks yesterday because Byram was some pitcher and because things broke nicely for him just when he got in a hole.

As for Kilroy, Orville was hit hard in spots and this, with the luck that was against him, brought the sign of defeat to his record.

* * *

The boob, male and female that lacks feeling for a man when he gets hurt showed themselves prominently when Finney was hit on the foot by a foul tip. When the ball struck the umpire and his face plainly showed that it was a painful blow, these ill bred people cut loose with a loud hurrah and a lot of silly jokes.

Just suppose one of them had been hit with a ball, how would they have liked it if their neighbor would have laughed and made a lot of rude and near funny remarks.

* * *

Graham's bunch has won ten of the fifteen games they have played since they have been on the road. Should they keep up this record, where would they be at the end of the season?

* * *

Byram was pulled out of a big hole in the fifth inning. Wolverton, first up, was walked. Then Heister made a star catch of a liner from Mitze's bat. Kilroy, next in line, was passed and O'Rourke made a great play of Maggart's hit, getting Orville at second. Maggart then stole second. With the captain at third and Maggart at second Wares pasted one through the box like a bullet. Lerchen ran after the ball made a forlorn lurch and got it, nailing him man at first. That was sure luck.

* * *

Mahoney wasn't entitled to a home run. Mitze wanted a low ball, for the Beantown recruit swings his head off at these, but Kilroy gave Mahoney a high one and it was out of the lot. Danzig's pole, though, was a jim dandy.

* * *

Patsy O'Rourke kicked long and loud because Finney didn't call Maggart out in the third inning when he stole into second base. All we can say to Pat is this: Touch your man before you begin to make a holler.

* * *

Patsy arose to remark to the umpire that his eyesight was bad when he was called out on strikes in the fifth inning and the umpire told him to contribute five bones to the league for language unbecoming a scholar and a gentleman.

* * *

Sacramento players deny that Director Carmichel was the leader of the mob at the Capital City that tried to annihilate the umpire in a recent game and they also deny that anybody struck Mrs. McGreevey.

* * *

Tomorrow the fun will take place on this side of the pond at Freeman Park. It will probably be Ables for the Oaks and Baum for the Senators.

* * *

Vernon players en route home from that disastrous series in the north were in San Francisco yesterday. They said it was hot up north and that the attendance was hardly up to expectations. No reason was given for the trimming given by the Beavers, though.

TY COBB IS SICK.

DETROIT, Mich., July 19. — Detroit's winning streak seems likely to be broken by the illness of Ty Cobb.

He has been ill since the beginning of the series with Philadelphia. His trouble is bronchial, attended by a hacking cough, from which he has found no remedy. It continues to grow worse and it is probable he will have to withdraw before the New York series ends.

HERE'S A FINE CHANCE TO VISIT THE CAPITAL CITY

William Bercovich to Run Excursion de Luxe Over Southern Pacific to Sacramento on August 6

Oakland baseball fans are to have a chance to see the home team play Sacramento on the latter's grounds on August 6 through the enterprise one one of the city's most energetic fans, William Bercovich, who has made arrangements with the Southern Pacific to run a special train to the capitol city on that day.

This train, which will consist of a buffet-observation car and as many coaches as may be needed, will have the right of way on all the company's tracks. It will also be made as comfortable for the travelers as possible.

Four separate coaches will be set aside especially for ladies and their escorts. The railroad officials have also stated that the cars to be run will be of the most up-to-date pattern, and enough cars will be put on to give every traveler a seat.

The train will leave Sixteenth street, Oakland, at 9:30 a. m. August 6, and will arrive in Sacramento at 12:15, allowing ample time for lunch before the game. Bercovich has also arranged for a light lunch to be served in the buffet car en route. At the game, which will be one of the most important of the season, a big section will be reserved in the grand stand for the rooters.

On the return home the special will leave Sacramento at 9 p. m., allowing of time to see some of the city. On the return the passengers will also be given a chance to see the largest ferry boat in the world, one which is now plying between Port Costa and Benicia. The arrival in Oakland will be at a seasonable hour.

Another important arrangement in connection with the tickets, which will be on sale at very low excursion rates for the round trip, is that they will be good for return for seven days after the date of sale. Both Bercovich and the railroad officials feel particularly pleased with the arrangements which have thus far been made for the excursion, and also with the reception which the project has received, and think it will be an affair of much interest and importance both to baseball fans and the ordinary traveler.

CONTRA COSTA LEAGUE WINDS UP SEASON OVER DISPUTES

MARTINEZ, July 19. — The board of directors of the Contra Costa Baseball League today decided to discontinue the games of the season and the league has become a thing of the past because of the disagreement of the Martinez players and the umpire, Fred Soares. The Martinez team retired from the league two weeks ago because of the refusal of the directors to dismiss Soares. The withdrawal wrecked the schedule of games and worked the destruction of the league. Among the teams of the league were the Shreves of San Francisco, the Tribunes of Oakland and teams from Crockett, Pinole, Concord and Martinez.

PROTEST OF HARRY WOLVERTON IS OVERRULED

Acting President Walter of Coast League Refuses to Allow Manager's Claim.

Acting President E. N. Walter of the Coast League yesterday afternoon refused to grant the protest of Manager Wolverton of the Oakland Club in the Oakland-Vernon game of June 20. The ruling is as follows:

The game was protested in behalf of the Oakland Club on the ground that Umpire Hildebrand erred in not allowing a claim of interference on the part of Base-runner Stinson under Section 8 of Rule 56, it being claimed that the runner prevented Second Baseman Cutshaw from fielding a batted ball by running in front of said fielder and jostling him as the letter was set to field the ball.

Umpire Hildebrand, in his written report on the protested decision, states that it was his judgment that the fielder, Cutshaw, touched Stinson without having the ball and then called for interference. While I believe from all the facts of the case that the umpire erred in his judgment of the play, I fell that, under the rules, I have not the power to sustain the protest, the umpire's decisions on matters of judgment not being subject to reversal.

Section 8 of Rule 56, upon which the protest is based, states that a base runner is out" if he fails to avoid a fielder attempting to field a batted ball." Section 7 of the same rule states that "in case a fielder be occupying a base-runner's proper path in attempting to field a batted ball, then the base-runner shall run out of direct line to the next base and behind said fielder and shall not be declared out for so doing." That Umpire Hildebrand was not very familiar with this provision of the rules is shown by his statement in his written report that Base-runner Stinson "ran in a direct line," whereas it is clear from the rule quoted above that the said base runner should not have run in a direct line but should have made a detour and passed behind the fielder instead of directly in front of him.

In my judgment, the umpire should have called Stinson out for interference and should not have allowed any runs to be scored on the play. However, as I stated, I do not feel that, as the umpire made it a matter of judgment on his part, I have the power to reverse him and therfore the protest is disallowed. I would add that the umpire, in his report, laid particular stress on the condition of the score at the time that the play in question came up, but this, in my judgment, should have cut no figure in his ruling. An umpire should not be influenced in his judgment by the effect his decision will have on the outcome of a game.

E. N. WALTER,
Acting President Pacific Coast League.

MEL. LONG CONTINUES TO SHOW REAL FORM IN TENNIS GAMES

BOSTON, Mass., July 19.—Melville H. Long, the California tennis player, won his way through another round in the tournament which is now in progress on the courts of the Longwood Cricket Club. He was opposed to P. S. Nicholls in the third round and continued to play in the same good form as before. Long won just as he pleased.

In the doubles the California tem, Long and Carlton Gardner, got off at a good start and had no trouble winning from an inferior team in straight sets. The California team is gaining in team work as a result of these earlier round matches, and is thought to have a good chance of winning the Eastern sectional doubles championship.

In the star match at the singles, Raymond D. Little of New York was defeated in the second round by Nathaniel W. Niles, the Massachusetts champion, in straight heats.

Little was the only favorite to be eliminated. In the eastern doubles W. A. Larned, the national champion, and W. J. Clothier, in a long-drawn-out match, had their hands full in disposing of C. F. Watson Jr. and H. Torrence Jr., in four sets.

K. O. BROWN HAS EASY TIME DISPOSING OF EDDIE KENNEY

NEW YORK, July 19.—Eddie Kenny of Chicago was knocked out last night by "Knockout" Brown in the second round of a scheduled ten-round bout at the Knickerbocker Athletic Club.

Brown made a chopping block of the Chicagoan, battering him from one side of the ring to the other, beating down his awkward defense with solid body punches, right-hand hooks and left-hand swings. A left hook on the stomach and jaw sent Kenny down for keeps.

"Knockout" gave away a lot of weight to Kenny, who announced himself as weighing 147 pounds.

Last Sunday was productive of three fast, snappy games in this league. At 10 a. m. the Schoenfeld club took home the honors by a 3 to 1 score from the hard hitting Taft & Pennoyer nine. However, the jewelers hit Johnson in the pinches, while the store boys were unable to solve the kinks in the delivery of Southpaw Smith. Score:

The afternoon game between Capwells and Maxwells went to the former, 6 to 3. The feature of this game was the pitching of Fenton, who averaged two strikeouts an inning. Both teams hit the ball hard, but the brilliant fielding on the part of both teams cut off many a hit.

WHEN GANG BEGAN TO PLAY THE FUN COMMENCED

The game opened with Molasses at the stick and Measles catching. Cigar was in the box with plenty of smoke.

Horn on first base, and Fiddle on second base, backed by Corn in the field, made it hot for Umpire Apple, who was rotten, Ax came to bat, and chopped.

Cigar let Brick walk and Sawdust filled the bases. Song made a hit, and twenty made a score. Cigar went out and Balloon started to pitch but went straight up. The Cherry tried it, but was wild.

Old Ice kept Cool in the game until the was hit by a pitched ball. Then you ought to have heard Ice Cream. Cabbage had a good head and kept quiet. Grass covered lots of ground in the field, and the crowd cheered when Spider caught a Fly.

Bread loafed on third and Pumped Organ who played fast and put eight out in the fifth inning. Wind began to blow abut what he could do.

Hammer began to knock and Trees began to leave. The way they roasted Peanuts was a fright. Knife was called out for cutting first base.

Lightning finished stopping the game and struck out six men.

In the ninth Apple told Fiddle to take his base. Oaks was shocked, then Song made another hit. Trombone made a slide for third and Meat was put on the Plate. Betting was fast and furious but Soap cleaned up.

Score 1 to 0. Door said if he had pitched he would have shut them out.

FAST BOUTS ARE HELD BEFORE COLUMBIA CLUB

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19. — Al Shrier knocked out Joe McAllister in the second round of the main event of the Columbia Club's boxing show last night. Jack Lennon gained a four-round decision over Teddy Harven; George Hall and Kid Romeo boxed four rounds to a draw; Harry Pool gained the verdict from A. Laurence; F. Bernard gained the verdict over J. Patrick; A. Herrera and E. Stanley fought to a draw; F. Smith and H. Adamson boxed three rounds, and D. Murray knocked out E. Martin in the first round.

BEAVERS WIN FIRST.

PORTLAND, Ore., July 19.—Henley, the supposed Portland "jinx," was less effective than usual yesterday, and the Beavers won, 3 to 0, with Henderson on the mound.

Henderson was decidedly liberal both in the number of hits allowed and passes to first, but he was fortunate when it came to allowing hits and threatened runs, and the Portland twirler was backed up by great support on the part of his teammates, who played errorless ball.

Henley was not so fortunate, for the last column in the San Francisco tally sheet is decorated with two black marks, both of which counted for runs. Even then a hit over the garden wall from Ryan's bat would have been sufficitnt for victors.

Score by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
San Francisco	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—0

PAPKE SIGNS WITH BURKE.

CHICAGO, July 19.—Billy Papke was matched to meet Sailor Burke in August. The middleweights will meet at the catchweights before the Twentieth Century Athletic Club at New York. The bout is scheduled for ten rounds. This will be the first contest for the claimant to the middleweight title since his victory over Jack Sullivan recently. The battle marks the start of a long campaign which Papke will go through in order to prove his right to the championship.

LOVE PAYS A FINE.

KANSAS CITY, July 19.—"Jack" Love, left fielder of the local American Association baseball club, pleaded guilty in the Police Court here today to the charge of having assaulted Edward W. Cochrane, sporting editor of the Kansas City Journal, and was fined $10. Love assaulted Cochrane at the ball park recently, after accusing him of unduly criticising him in the columns of the Journal.

FAKER BILL PAPKE RETURNS WITH A LONG STORY

NEW YORK, July 19.—Billy Papke, the Kewanee, Ill., boy, returned from his tour of Europe today and left immediately for the west.

Papke has been abroad ten months, had five bouts, four in Australia and one in London. At Sydney he knocked out Ed Williams in six rounds, fought Dave Smith nine rounds and knocked him out only to lose on a foul; lost to "Cyclone" Johnny Thompson and in a return match with Dave Smith knocked him out in seven rounds. On June 5 in the London Palladium, Papke met Jim Sullivan for a twenty-round go, which ended in a knockout in nine. Sullivan was out thirty minutes. Papke declares that in this match they tried to double-cross him with gloves stuffed with rabbit skins.

Papke told of a new "white hope" he had met in London. The coming wonder is a South African boy by the name of Fred Strawback. He is not yet 21, and weighs over 200.

"The boy is wonderfully strong and game," said Papke. "He takes an awful walloping easily because he doesn't know much about the game yet, but, although he is floored again and again, he always comes back with the punch and puts his man out."

Papke says Strawback is anxious to get a match with Jack Johnson, and is training with that end in view.

DON'T KNOW ANYTHING ABOUT SELLING EVERS

CHICAGO, July 19.—A report from Cincinnati that the National league team of that city is negotiating for Johnny Evers, second baseman of the Cubs, who is wanted as manager to succeed Clark Griffith, was all news to President Murphy of the Cubs yesterday.

When questioned concerning the rumored bid for Evers, Murphy said:

"President Herrmann has made no offer to me for any of our players, but possibly while he was in the east he talked it over with Manager Chance. Chance has not communicated with me on the transaction and I am in the dark on the entire matter."

CHISHOLM CASE CLOSES TONIGHT

Prosecutor Lea Scores Alleged Murderer of Powell to Jury.

SANTA ROSA, July 19.—Before a dense crowd of spectators in Judge Seawell's courtroom District Attorney Clarence Lea began the State's opening arguments in the Chisholm murder case today.

Lea flayed the prisoner unmercifully, especially attacking his excuse of self-defense.

The prosecutor said that the murder had been carefully planned and executed, and declared that Blanche Powell, Chisholm's reputed wife, had been shown up as an accomplice.

Thomas J. Butte, Chisholm's attorney, will follow Lea, who will make the closing address. The case will go to the jury tonight.

CHISHOLM'S STORY.

Attributing his misfortunes that ultimately ended in the murder of John Powell to the temptation of a woman, Dr. L. C. Chisholm, who yesterday confessed on the witness stand to having killed Powell in a lonely cove on the ocean shore near old Fort Ross on March 9 last, went on to relate his story of the shooting, saying that he fired in self-defense and that he "did it all for the sake of a woman." This woman, Lucy Putnam, was the beneficiary of the insurance policy for $2000 taken out on the life of John Dawson Powell.

That Dr. Chisholm deliberately planned the murder, and with that end in view selected the lonely spot for the purpose of carrying out his scheme, is the belief of the authorities, in spite of his confession. It is also thought that he plied his intended victim with whisky before commiting the deed. Evidence has been brought to show that Chisholm purchased two quart bottles of liquor on the morning of the murder and he admitted that Powell had consumed more than a quart, adding that he was not drunk. He said that it had autopsy in the case of Miss Dora had approached him with a leveled pistol and that he then fired the fatal shots.

TEACHERS CHOSEN AS SUBSTITUTES

Berkeley Board Completes Organization of System After Two Years.

BERKELEY, July 19.—The board of education at its sessio last night canvassed the returns of the civil service examination held on July 14 for grammar school teachers. It being estimated that not more than ten new teachers will be required to fill the vacancies for the year, upon the recommendation of the superintendent the rankingt ten in the examination were placed on the preferred list from which vacancies are to be filled. The names of the successful candidates are as follows:

Effie Hawkins, Leopold Marles, Edith Mossman, Mary Carmichael, Ethel Story, Helen O'Neil, Minnie Metz, Marie Kinell, Bess Bozarth, Edith Clarken.

The board authorized the superintendent to organize the Franklin School as a Lower High School. This will necessitate transferring some of the children in the elementary grades of the Franklin School to the Columbus School in order that room may be secured for the retention of the ninth grades of the district. This also involves the organization of special courses, particularly in commercial lines.

It was also suggested that this arrangement would provide opportunity, if the funds will permit, at a later time of establishing night school classes for the young people of West Berkeley. This is the final step in the plan for the re-organization of the school system of Berkeley begun by the board of education two years ago. In consequence Berkeley now has a "Lower High School" in each of the quarters of the city and an "Upper High School" at a point central to the entire city.

The board selected for vacancies in physics and chemistry, William B. Fuller and Miss Hazel Roberts, and for a vacancy in manual training, Mr. I. H. Patteenberger.

In view of the fact that some of the directors desire to be out of town at the time of the next regular meeting of the board, the meeting will be held Thursday night, July 27, in place of Tuesday night, July 25.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL URGES CONTROL OF CORPORATIONS

Wickersham, in Sensational Speech, Suggests Commission Would Control the Prices

DULUTH, Minn., July 19.—Attorney-General Wickersham before the Minnesota State Bar Association this afternoon took an advanced stand on the further federal regulation of corporations, and said a government commission to regulate the great industrial organizations in the same way that the Interstate Commerce Commission regulates railways was desirable and might be necessary.

Wickersham's speech was little short of sensational in many of its features. He declared that it was a matter of serious consideration whether it would be practical to give to the proposed Interstate Corporation Commission the power to fix prices.

Many of Wickersham's declarations were the most radical he has made since his entrance into official life. There was nothing in the speech, however, to indicate how far the attorney-general reflected the views of President Taft. On several ocasions in the last year he has been regarded as the spokesman for the administration.

CURRENT COMMENT.

"That some further regulations over corporations carrying on commerce among the States may be necessary," he said, "is coming to be a matter of current comment. It has been openly advocated quite recently by representatives of some of the largest combinations of capital, probably as a means of salvation, and to preserve, under government supervision, great organizations whose continued existence is menaced by the recent interpretation of the Sherman act, the disintegration of which would be necessarily attended with much loss.

"To such it is a case of 'any port in a shipwreck.' Better continued co-operative life, even under a powerful master, than disseminated properties and segregated activities without constant government supervision.

"But there are other reasons for such regulation. The federal department of justice is not organized or equipped to maintain constant supervision and control over business organizations. It deals only with cases of violation of the law.

"The activities of an administrative board or commission would be directed to preventing such violation, and in aiding business men to maintain a continued status of harmony with the requirements of law.

MAY REGULATE PRICES.

"Whether such a Federal industrial commission should have power to regulate prices is a matter of serious consideration. The interstate commerce law prescribes that prices for transportation by rail or wire or pipe line shall be reasonable, and that no unjust discrimination shall be made between individuals or localities similarly situated. A similar rule might be declared with respect to the prices of commodities the subject of interstate commerce.

"We have become accustomed to the regulation of rates of transportation, but the suggestion that prices of commodities be regulated by Congress seems novel and radical.

"Yet the principle on which the regulation of transportation rates is based is simply that when property is used in a manner to make of it public consequence and affect the community at large, it becomes clothed with a public use and may be controled by the public for the common good.

"The conduct of the great commerce on staple articles among the States is becoming a matter of public consequence, and the courts have upheld legislation regulating it, and prescribing some of the conditions under which it may be carried on. To require as one of these conditions that prices must be reasonable, only involves a new application of the same principle.

"The anti-trust legislation of the United States and most of the separate States is based on the theory that the natural price of an article is that fixed by the operation of the natural law of supply and demand, working without artificial restraint.

HAS NOT WORKED.

"But the law of supply and demand does not and has not for many years worked in this country in a natural, unrestrained and unfettered manner.

"The government in the first instance interposes an artificial restraint in the protective tariff on imports. True, the theory of this tariff is to equalize conditions of competition; to place, as it were, a handicap on the foreign competitor who has produced his conditions under conditions less burdensome than those under which the American manufacturer produces his.

"But the inequalities resulting from the methods of tariff legislation are very often impossible to justify on the theory of sufficient protection only, and the resulting price is that fixed by a limited competition between dealers in the market from which foreign competitors are to a certain extent excluded.

"Nor is this all. It is probably safe to say that in almost every one of the great staple industries prices have been for years fixed by agreement between the principal producers and not free play of competition among the domestic producers, nor by the unfettered operation of the law of supply and demand.

"The fact seems to be that the prices of the standard articles sold in the United States for several years have not been fixed at all by the operation of the law of supply and demand or of unrestrained competition, but by associations of producers, without the participation of the consumer or the general public—that is, without those who have had to pay the bills having any voice in fixing the price.

PUBLIC HAS PART.

"In this view, it is certainly not unreasonable that the purchasing public should desire to have some part in determining the price it is to pay—in like manner as has been recognized to be just with respect to the cost of transportation.

"If there could be any assurance that the free play of competition would be assured and the natural price resulting from the unrestrained operation of supply and demand maintained, then no governmental supervision of business—beyond occasional prosecutions for violations of the Sherman law—would be necessary.

"But the habits formed through years of following a system are not easily shaken off, and the artificial forms of organization made necessary by the conflicting laws of many states with those of the nation will always present a borderland of doubt which will furnish on the one hand opportunities for those who wish to violate the law to do so with some show of justification, and on the other perplex those who are sincerely desirous of keeping the law, but by reason of the complexity and conflict of different state laws find it difficult to do so without seeming to run counter to the anti-trust law.

"For the effectual regulation of both of these classes the supervision of a federal commission is certainly desirable if not absolutely necessary.

POWER OVER PRICES.

"In theory it would seem that such a commission would have some power over prices, but the practical difficulties in the way of so exercising power as not to inflict a greater evil than that it is intended to cure are so great as perhaps to be insurmountable."

Wickersham implied that a federal corporation act, while it might offer some difficulties, would help to lay the ax at the root of the trust evil.

"Probably no one thing has done more to facilitate restraint of trade and the growth of monopoly than the departures from the early rule of law that one corporation cannot own stock in another. That departure was the most baneful result of the 'let us alone' policy in dealing with corporations to which the country abandoned itself during the last thirty years of the nineteenth century. The conditions which have resulted from the exercise of the expressly conferred power in one corporation to take and hold stock in another, present the most serious obstacles to the effectual dealing with the 'trust' problem.

"Whenever competitors have been excluded by unfair means and a very large part of the commerce absorbed by a particular interest the ministry by which such justice has been accomplished will be found on examination to be the control of corporations by means of intercorporate stock holdings.

LAYING ON AX.

"If Congress should enact that no corporation engaged in interstate commerce shall hereafter acquire any stock of any other corporation so engaged, and that unless all such corporations should dispose of all stocks held by them in other corporations engaged in interstate commerce within some specified period, they should be prohibited from carrying on interstate commerce until they did so dispose of such stocks, the ax would indeed by laid at the root of the trust evil, but justice to innocent holders of securities issued to the public based on pledged stocks acquired and held pursuant to express legal authority would require consideration to be given to their case and such exceptions to be made from the prohibition as might be necessary to their protection. These acts might seriously interfere with the enactment of legislation effective to accomplishment of the main purpose in view.

"Business men of integrity are naturally desirous of avoiding violations of law. The construction of the Sherman law originally contended for would have condemned them for any concerted action which imposes a restraint on trade.

"The more enlightened view which has been established by the Supreme Court limits the prohibition to undue restraints—those which are not the result of normal business methods, but which are intended to accomplish or have for their direct and primary purpose interference with the natural course of trade and commerce among the States or with foreign countries. Yet even within these rules there is an activity where co-operation and association should only play under government supervision and control.

ECONOMIC FORCE.

"With such supervision annual economic force may be utilized to the public benefit and to the general satisfaction of the commercial world. By it, while monopolies and restraints of trade will still be held at bay by the terrors of the anti-trust act, thousands of small traders may be regulated, corporations protect themselves from the ruin of destructive competition on the one hand and from the constant apprehension of indictment on the other.

"Conservative minds naturally shrink from acepting a conclusion which would devolve upon the national government, the comprehensive powers and duties involved in extending the principles of the interstate commerce laws over commercial and industrial corporations for the increased centralization of control in Washington over the trade of the country, the multiplication of federal officeholders and bureaucratic intermeddling with business, may be necessary, but are undesirable incidents to the conduct of daily business life.

"These problems go to the very root of the continued prosperity of our people. They can only be solved by a careful consideration free from any partisan bias. I have not attempted to express a conclusion, but merely to state the elements of a problem which if wisely determined, will 'scatter plenty o'er a smiling land,' and if unwisely dealt with may paralyze the land of industry that make those rich—not with the unequal wealth of monopoly, but with the distributed wealth which brings national prosperity and continued peace."

RUST IN WHEAT BRIGHTENS TRADE

Prices on Chicago Market Take an Upward Turn and Close Strong.

CHICAGO, July 19.—Because of weather conditions in the northwest tending to spread rust the wheat market today took an upward turn. Moreover, foreign crop conditions were reported as less favorable than heretofore and ocean freight rates hardening. It was also said that a fair inquiry had developed for hard wheat to be shipped from Chicago to eastern mills.

Opening prices were ¼c off to ¼c up. September started at 87⅜@88c, unchanged to ¼c higher, and held at the upper level.

Commission selling on the advance led to a decline. The close was easy at 87c for September, a net loss of ⅜c.

Light receipts of corn made the market for that cereal strong. Local speculators headed the buying. News of further rain in Kansas appeared to have little effect. September opened at 63⅜@64⅛c, the same as last night, to ⅜c advance, and rose to 64⅝c.

Illinois rains, however, brought a reaction. The close was weak at 62¾@62⅞c, a net loss of ⅛@1c.

Oats declined. September started ⅛@ down to ¼c up at 42¼@42⅝c, and rose to 42c.

With offerings limited and hogs higher, provisions were firm. Initial sales varied from last night's figures to 7½c higher, with January delivery $15.40 for pork, $8.25 for lard and $8.07½ for ribs.

The closing quotations were as follows:

Wheat—July, 85¼c; September, 87c; December, 90⅛c; May, 94⅜c.

Corn—July, 61⅝c; September, 62¾@62⅞c; December, 50⅞c; May, 61⅞c.

Oats—July, 41⅝c; September, 41⅝c; December, 43⅛@43⅝c; May, 45⅜c.

Pork—September, $16; January, $15.45.

Lard—January and December, $8.20; July, $1.12½@8.15; September, $8.22½.

Ribs—July, $8.37½; September, $8.45; January, $7.95.

Rye—No. 2, 81c.

Barley—Cash, 75c@$1.10.

Clover—Cash, $0@15.60.

Timothy—Cash, $10@14.

Chicago, July 19.—Cash sales grain here yesterday were 150,000 bushels wheat for export; 315,000 bushels corn and 520,000 bushels oats.

Car Lots.	Today.	Contract.	Estim.	Last Week
Wheat	370	797	975	49
Corn	65	19	65	176
Oats	131	97	131	154

CHICAGO, July 19.—The Inter Ocean says: "Among a majority of wheat traders last night the opinion prevailed that while there might not be much of an advance in prices for the next few days, or possibly a week, the long side was the safest on all declines like that of yesterday until there is more certainty in regard to the Spring wheat crop in the Northwest. The brilliant prospects there have disappeared and the three states will do well to raise as much as their 177,000,000 bushels of last year. Cool weather the past few weeks has been highly beneficial, permitting filling and preventing widespread damage which would have resulted from continued drought with high temperatures. The Armour interest continues bullish and Chapin and the Bartlett-Frazier house is inclined to the buying side on the breaks. Black rust is still an important factor in the wheat market, and there are grasshoppers that are also doing considerable damage. Sentiment among pit traders in wheat last night was mixed. It was generally claimed that the leading bull interest had sold on the bulges. As one trader put it: 'The big winter wheat movement and light speculative trade offsets the effect of the black rust scare.'

"September corn has had a break of 4½c from the high point of last week, December is off 1¼c, and May over 5c. This has put the trade in better shape for forcing all the weak holders out and creating a large short interest. A point made by speculators is that September should drop to 62c before it is in good shape for another advance, while the December and May are lower than they were on July 1. Meanwhile, the cash situation has strengthened. The country movement has fallen off and the cash demand improved and stocks are being cut down. The recent bulls still stick to the belief that corn is worth present prices and say that should the weather remain dry for three or four days and temperatures climb up toward the 100 mark, corn prices will again start upward."

PRICES CLING TO HIGHER LEVEL

New York Traction Stocks Show Further Strength on Opening.

NEW YORK, July 19.—Prices held close to the high level established yesterday in the early transactions on the Stock Exchange today. The local Traction stocks showed further strength. Interborough-Metropolitan and Manhattan Elevated advancing a point each. Rock Island preferred gained 1½ and American Locomotive 1. Elsewhere changes were slight.

Prices improved after the opening, all the market leaders advancing substantial fractions on a fairly good buying movement. Atlantic Coast Line, Louisville and Nashville and Consolidated Gas gained a point each.

Transactions in stocks were active during the morning and the market held firm at the higher level established by the heavy buying movement late yesterday. The range was wider than usual and for the first time in several weeks a moderate amount of outside business was reported.

Prices of most leading issues improved fractionally, with especial strength in the Harriman stocks. Union Pacific touched 180¾, the high point of the year, an advance of more than a point, and Southern Pacific rose nearly as much. Among the industrials gains of a point or more were established by American Woolen, Pacific Mail and Railway Steel Springs.

The bond market was firm.

The market closed steady. The list ran to nearly the low level of the day during the last hour. Profit taking was largely responsible for the decline, which was accelerated, however, by bear selling.

NEW YORK, July 19.—Gibson says: "The stock market has shown little change from the action of the last two weeks. Every little dip is followed by fairly good buying on the declines and bears are compelled to either cover at a loss or stand pat on dangerous commitments.

"The stability of the market exeantds to almost all the good stocks. The weak spots have been pretty well discounted or eliminated, and it is hard to make a hole anywhere. While the demand is not large, every leading security has its friends and is well protected.

"Crop prospects continue good and the general outlook is favorable. Would buy good stocks at the level or on moderate reactions. I do not believe any material reaction will occur until a higher level is reached, unless there is a decided change for the worse in corn and cotton prospects. Everything else has been exploited, weighed and cast aside and a material reduction in important crops is the only factor which can seriously affect prices now.

"Would buy wheat and sell corn at this level.

"I expect some rallies in cotton from time to time, but even after the severe break would continue to sell on every recovery."

There is something more than a mere whirl of gaiety in the "Photo Shop," the big musical comedy spectacle which the Orpheum folks are putting on this week. It is one of Jesse Lasky's most pretentious acts, and this is proved by the fact that he has engaged for it a trio of great artists in addition to the score and more of pretty show girls and clever chorus men who form the background for "The Photo Shop" scenes.

The three artists referred to are Chas. J. Stine, one of the most notable farceurs in the United States, who has figured in many big productions in leading roles for years; Mamie Fleming, a musical comedy star whose record is brilliant with successes, and Eugene Redding, former star in "A Friend of the Family," and famous in the East as a player in "Brewster's Millions" and other notable productions.

"The Photo Shop" is a kaleidoscope of swirling skirts, merry dancing numbers, rollicking song stuff and the comedy bits that Stine, Redding and Miss Fleming interject at every other moment. It is making a big hit with the Orpheum crowds this week and deserves the prominence which a $2000 vaudeville act calls for. The disregard of the Orpheum people for expense is shown by the fact that they pay for this one act about three times the cost of an ordinary dramatic or vaudeville show.

In addition to all this there are seven other foreign and American vaudeville acts on the current bill.

The Marcel Boris trio are from Europe. They are acrobats of extraordinary skill with a new twist to their athletic stunts.

Merry blackface fun of the most rollicking sort is contributed by the quartette who call themselves Fay, Two Coleys and Fay.

Gene Green wakes the echoes with his splendid singing numbers. He is gifted with a personality that is irresistible and potent to win applause. The lad from Chicago fairly carries the crowds off their feet when he takes the stage and he invariably closes in a hurricane of handclapping.

Homer Mason and Marguerite Keeler are in the last week of their engagement, presenting their delightful comedy, "In and Out." They will close next Saturday night, as will also Melville Ellis, the pianist; Rousby's Scenic Review and Lydell and Butterworth.

'GIRL IN THE TAXI' NOW IN HOSPITAL

Man in Case, Too Attentive, Is Booked by Police for Battery.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—As the result of a quarrel in a taxicab returning from the Ocean Beach during the early morning hours, Miss Anna Hills, a pretty 25-year-old woman of Los Angeles, is at the Central Emergency hospital with her face badly bruised and battered and Henry E. Cosgrove is booked at the city prison for battery.

Miss Hills, who is head of the order department of the Los Angeles Dyeing and Cleaning Company, has been spending her vacation here with friends at the St. Andrew apartments, 1597 Jackson street. According to her explanation, her hostess, Mrs. Smith, and her husband, took her downtown, where they met Cosgrove, who proposed an auto ride. They stopped at Dibble's on the Ocean Beach and Cosgrove and the young women returned alone together.

Cosgrove had been quite attentive to Miss Hills throughout the evening, and she claims that it was her objection to these attentions which caused him to strike her.

FOUR NEAR DEATH WHEN AUTOMOBILE OVERTURNS

VALLEJO, July 19. — When W. Herbert's touring car turned turtle while coasting down a hill near the Vallejo White Sulphur Springs, its four occupants had a narrow escape. A. Vera suffered a fractured right arm and the other victims numerous cuts and bruises. Those in the car were William Healy, Manuel Sants, Vera and E. Peterson, a boatman from San Francisco.

ITCHING IRRITATION

Worst Form of Skin Trouble Quickly Cured by Inexpensive Treatment.

When you suffer with any skin trouble, even though the itching seems unbearable, do not think that it is necessary to use some disgusting, greasy ointment. Try Hokara, a pure and simple skin food that is guaranteed to contain no grease or acids and which is so cleanly it does not soil the linen.

Its power to instantly relieve any irritation of the skin and make it soft, white and beautiful is almost miraculous.

Not only are minor skin troubles like pimples, blackheads, acne, barber's itch, etc., quickly cured, but the worst ulcers or cases of salt rheum or eczema are cleansed and healed by this wonderful skin food.

In order that any one may try Hokara at small expense Osgood Bros. are selling a liberal sized jar at 25c and in addition guarantee to refund the money if the treatment does not do all that is claimed for it. Larger size 50 cents.

BLAMES HIS MOTHER-IN-LAW

Dr. Lee De Forest Declares Mrs. Blatch Broke Up Home.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—Blaming his suffragette mother-in-law, Harriet Stanton Blatch of New York, for his marital troubles, Dr. Lee de Forest, the famous wireless telegraph inventor, yesterday admitted that he had secretly filed a divorce suit here a few days ago against his wife, Nora Blatch de Forest, following a suit for separation filed by Mrs. de Forest in Long Island last month.

He states that his efforts to effect a reconciliation with his wife were frustrated by the militant woman's rights leader, and that his final visit to plead with his wife to join him here in his new home was utilized by Mrs. Blatch to serve her daughter's separation papers on him.

HAVE ONE CHILD.

The de Forests were married in February, 1908, and they have one child. De Forest, who is a Yale graduate, is 38 years of age. Until recently his home was at Spuyten Duyvil, N. Y., and his office at 103 Park avenue, New York City. Since coming to San Francisco to reside he has been conducting a series of wireless experiments in his laboratory.

Harriet Stanton Blatch, his mother-in-law, is a daughter of Elizabeth Cady Stanton. She married an Englishman, thereby losing her American citizenship, and this led her to enter vigorously into suffrage work. She is president of the League for Self-Supporting Women, which numbers a membership of 20,000 in New York alone.

I. D. E. S. INITIATES 18 NEW MEMBERS HERE

Oakland lodge, I. D. E. S., council Fe, No. 1, has elected 18 new members. M. F. Nunez of Hanford, former supreme president, and a number of grand directors assisted in the exercises. A banquet followed the initiation. A fob was presented to retiring President Loiriero.

CHURCHMAN LEADS BAND OF MEXICAN REBELS

MEXICO CITY, July 19.—Father Capellan, temporarily forsaking the peaceful vocations of the priesthood, recently placed himself at the head of a hundred men and last week attacked and captured, after brisk fighting, the town of Penjamo, in the state of Guanajuato, according to Juan Gutierrez, owner of the hacienda de la Calle, near Penjamo.

Until recently the priest was chaplain of the hacienda. He recruited a little army there after haranguing the laborers on the subject of how badly there were treated.

VALUES HIS FINGERS AT $5000 APIECE

SUISUN, July 19.—William S. Mellie, a Pullman car porter, has instituted a suit in the Superior Court here against the Southern Pacific Company for damages to the sum of $10,225 for the loss of the index and third fingers of his right hand, which, he alleges, were crushed off by a "mail catch arm."

The accident occurred on the ferry steamer Solano, several weeks ago. Mellie states in his complaint that he was standing on the platform of a Pullman coach when a mail car was run in on an adjoining track. The projecting "mail catcher," he says, crushed his hand against the facing of the entrance to the car. He bases his claim for damages on the allegation of gross carelessness and negligence on the part of the employes of the company.
